CBI ARRESTS ABG SHIPYARD FOUNDER IN ₹22,842 CRORE BANK FRAUD CASE

Rishi K Agarwal was arrested on Wednesday after the probe officer suspected he was not cooperating during questioning

CASE REGISTERED AFTER COMPLAINT FROM SBI

Apart from Agarwal, the CBI had also booked ABG's former executive director Santhanam Muthaswamy, and directors Ashwini Kumar, Sushil Kumar Agarwal and Ravi Vimal Nevetia on February 7. The case was registered on a complaint from the State Bank of India, which was part of a consortium of 28 banks led by ICICI Bank that lent to ABG Shipyard

FORENSIC AUDIT FOUND DIVERSION OF FUNDS

- The complaint was filed after a forensic audit of ABG's loan accounts, which had turned bad, showed the company created a web of transactions between 2012 and 2017 to cheat the lenders
- According to the CBI, the fraud was primarily on account of huge transfer of funds by the company to some of the accused

Govt mute spectator to hate speech: SC

Comes down hard on television channels for promoting hatred, raps biased TV anchors

Law Commission's recommendations

In its Report No 267 tilted Hate Speech, the Law Commission suggested the following amendments to the Indian Penal Code, 1860 and the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973:

- Insert a new IPC Section 153C (Prohibiting incitement to hatred) following Section 153B
- Insert Section 505A (Causing fear, alarm, or provocation of violence in certain cases) following Section 505 IPC

Other observations

- Hate speech poses complex challenges to freedom of speech and expression
- In the US, hate speech is given wide constitutional protection, whereas under international human rights covenants and in other western democracies, such as Canada, Germany, and the UK, it is regulated and subject to sanctions

SHRUTI KAKKAR @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Wednesday rapped the Centre's inaction on the hate speech issue, while directing it to file its reply within two weeks clearly indicating whether it intends to enact a law to curb the menace, as recommended by the Law Commission.

Highlighting the same issue, the Election Commission had last week told the apex court that it does not have the legal power to de-recognise political parties or disqualify candidates over hate mongering because existing laws don't define hate speech or hate mongering.

"Why is the government of India standing as mute witness when all of this (hate speech on TV news channels) is happening? Why is the Centre treating this like a trivial issue? Political parties will come and go, but the nation will endure," said a bench of judges K M Joseph and Hrishikesh Roy while hearing a batch of petitions seeking to curb hate mongering.

Slamming the news channels that promote hate speech, the bench noted that television anchors allow certain panellists to make vitriolic comments but stop the other side to express their counter views by muting their microphones.

The bench said strict action should be taken against erring news anchors and that such people should also be taken off air.

"Mainstream TV channels still hold sway. The role of anchor is critical and it's their duty to see that hate speech doesn't occur... Many a time those who want to speak are muted," the bench observed.

Stressing the fact that there is no definition of hate speech, advocate Ashwini Upadhyay, appearing for one of the petitiones, submitted that the people accused of hate speech are now charged under Section 153A of IPC (Promoting enmity between different groups on grounds of religion, race, place of birth, residence) but they ultimately get off the hook. He added that political parties were being benefited by hate speech.

The bench posted matter for hearing on November 23.

PARTIAL MOBILISATION

3L RESERVISTS GET PUTIN CALL FOR WAR

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

RUSSIAN President Vladimir Putin on Wednesday announced a partial mobilisation of 3 lakh reservists to start pre-emptive military operations in Donbas, weeks after Ukrainian troops managed to recapture vast swathes of its territory from Russian invaders. This is the first such call-up in Russia since World War II.

Timed as it was a day after four regions in Ukraine — Luhansk, Kherson, partly Russian-controlled Zaporizhzhia and Donetsk — decided to hold referendums on amalgamating themselves with Russia, Putin's attempt to swallow them by weaponising the democratic exercise was clear. The votes are to be held between September 23 and 27.

"Primarily those who served in the armed forces will be called up,'' the Russian President said. Ahead of his seven-minute televised address, Putin signed an executive order for the immediate mobilisation. Putin also warned he wasn't bluffing over using everything at his disposal to protect Russia, which was an apparent reference to his nuclear arsenal. He also accused the West of making attempts to weaken, divide and destroy Russia. "The West has used indiscriminate Russophobia as a weapon... primarily in Ukraine, which was designed to become an anti-Russia bridgehead," he said.

Panic, rush to fly out

The partial mobilisation triggered panic in Russia with a large numbers of people rushing to book one-way tickets out of the country. Flights filled up quickly and the prices of tickets zoomed

A spokesman for Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelensky said conscripts sent to Ukraine would face a similar fate as ill-prepared Russian forces who were repelled in an attack on Kyiv in the first days of the war. US national security council spokesperson John Kirby said Putin's speech is "definitely a sign that he's struggling." P11

Kochi turns Cong hub; Gehlot confirms fight

CYNTHIA CHANDRAN & SHAHID FARIDI @ T'Puram/New Delhi

WITH the process to file nomination papers for the Congress presidential election set to begin in a few days, Kochi is becoming the epicentre of action as everyone who matters in the party is or will be here.

Apart from Rahul Gandhi, who is leading the Bharat Jodo yatra, Rajasthan chief minister and official candidate of the Gandhi family Ashok Gehlot's bete noir Sachin Pilot, Mallikarjun Kharge, Digvijaya Singh and Jairam Ramesh are here. Gehlot and AICC general secretary K C Venugopal are expected to arrive tomorrow.

Sachin Pilot, who reached on Tuesday night, is learnt to have held closed door discussions with Rahul twice during the day. He also took part in the Bharat Jodo Yatra. "Sachinji has urged Rahulji to take up the post of party president. He is still hopeful,'' a KPCC leader close to the former told this newspaper. Sources said Pilot expressed strong displeasure at the wily Gehlot intending to stay on as CM while entering the presidential race.

While talking to this daily, Sachin said, "It is Rahulji's decision whether he should contest or not." Earlier in the day, Gehlot indicated his candidature saying, "I am lucky that Congress people across the country love and trust me...So I won't be able to say no. Jahan mujhe kahenge... form bharna hai, main form bharoonga (If they ask me to fill a form to contest, I will fill it and contest)," he said.

Gehlot said this after discussions with party president Sonia Gandhi in Delhi. He, however, added that he would still try to change Rahul's mind. "There will be more impact if he undertakes the yatra as Congress president. I will talk to him, and then decide (on filing nomination papers)," he said.

Interestingly, Gehlot will visit the Sai Baba mandir in Shirdi on his way back from Kochi on Friday — quite an indicator of the way things are panning out in the party.

'No bar on staying as CM'

The one-man-one-post rule adopted at the party's Udaipur meet applies to nominated posts only, Gehlot said, adding, "This is an open election."

CONGRESS, BJP IN 'POSTER WAR' OVER CORRUPTION

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI @ Bengaluru

AFTER 'welcome to 40 per cent CM' billboard put up in Hyderabad recently, Congress in Karnataka on Wednesday launched a 'paycm' poster campaign against the BJP government, triggering a 'poster war' over corruption in the state.

Posters carrying Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai's photograph, QR code and 'paycm 40 per cent accepted here, scan this code to make the CM pay for corruption' were found pasted on walls at many places in Bengaluru, including the walls of CM's official residence on Race Course Road in Bengaluru. The QR code on the poster redirects to Congress's web portal launched recently to receive complaints of corruption against the Bommai government.

While authorities got the posters removed from the walls of the CM's residence, posters were seen on the walls and dustbins all along Queen's Road and Jayamahal area in Bengaluru.

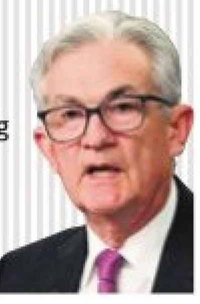
Reacting to the poster campaign, Bommai termed it a conspiracy to tarnish his and Karnataka's reputation. "Even we know how to do such baseless campaigns on social media. But people know it is a big lie", Bommai said. The CM had strongly reacted to the billboard in Telangana that was allegedly put up by Telangana Rashtra Samithi (TRS) members by saying that such acts would only spoil the ties between the two neighbouring states.

In New Delhi, BJP National General Secretary C T Ravi alleged that the campaign is part of Congress party's tool kit. "The attempt to tarnish the government's image in this way started sometime ago and if they have evidence on 40 per cent commission, let them lodge a complaint with the Lokayukta", he said. P4

Fed hikes rate

BY 0.75% AS INFLATION DEEPENS

Intensifying its fight to rein in inflation, the US Federal Reserve on Wednesday raised its target interest rate by three-quarters of a percentage point for a third straight time. The move boosted the benchmark short-term rate, which affects consumer and business loans, to a range of 3-3.25%, the highest level since 2008. Meanwhile, the Fed's quarterly projections, showed the economy slowing to a crawl in 2022, with year-end growth at 0.2%



PM CARES FUND

Sudha: I feel privileged to be picked as Trust member

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

"I feel grateful if I can make even a small change in the life of a poor person", said noted educator and philanthropist Sudha Murty on being nominated as a member of the Board of PM CARES Fund Trust. Murty, former chairperson of Infosys Foundation, told TNIE, "I am very happy to learn about my nomination to the Board of Trustees of the PM CARES Fund. I feel very privileged and proud to find myself working with some of the most eminent personalities like Sri Ratan Tata. My focus has always been to work for the poor and the underprivileged. I will continue to do so as a member of the Board."

She, however, added that she is yet to receive the official order to know and understand her role in the Board.

The other trustees of the PM CARES Fund are former Supreme Court judge Justice K T Thomas, former Deputy Speaker Kariya Munda, Chairman Emeritus of Tata Sons, Ratan Tata, former comptroller and auditor general of India Rajiv Mehrishi and co-founder of Teach for India and former CEO of Indicorps and Piramal Foundation Anand Shah.

Prime Minister Narendra Modi, while chairing a meeting of the Board on Tuesday, said the participation of the new trustees and advisers will provide wider perspectives to the functioning of the PM CARES Fund, according to a statement issued by the PMO.

The meeting was attended by Fund trustees including Union Home Minister Amit Shah and Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman.

Project Cheetah has a strong K'taka connect

BOSKY KHANNA @ Bengaluru

KARNATAKA may not have become home for the eight cheetahs that arrived with much fanfare in Madhya Pradesh last week. But Project Cheetah has a strong Bengaluru connect. Two senior veterinary doctors from the city, who are part of the ambitious project, have played a crucial role in bringing the cheetahs to India from Namibia.

Stationed in Kuno National Park since September 17 when the cheetahs were released by Prime Minister Narendra Modi on his birthday, the two experts are monitoring almost every move of the eight cheetahs and even assessing their scat and urine samples to check for any diseases, apart from who is roaming with whom and for how long.

Dr Sanath M, a former veterinarian at Bannerghatta Biological Park, moved to Wildlife Institute of India (WII) and then to Delhi Zoo, before being roped in for Project Cheetah in 2021. He is working on the risk analysis.

He is accompanied by Bipin C M, senior project associate, who is leading the WII team in Kuno.

Bipin is closely monitoring the movements and behaviour of the fastest mammals on the planet. Born in Kodagu and educated in Bengaluru, Bipin also worked with the National Centre for Biological Sciences to study human-elephant conflicts in the Western Ghats before joining WII as project biologist for reintroduction of cheetahs in 2011.

B.PAC: 57% of citizens not happy with civic amenities

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

A report released by Bangalore Political Action Committee (B.PAC) on Wednesday has revealed that residents of Mahadevapura zone have the highest level of dissatisfaction over civic amenities, while the residents of Rajarajeshwari Nagar are the most satisfied.

The report titled 'Bengaluru Citizen Perception Survey', surveyed citizens' priorities with regard to civic services and their perception about quality of services in Bengaluru city.

The survey pointed out that 57 per cent of the respondents said that the overall governance of the city is not satisfactory.

The survey covered 8,405 citizens who were asked about their awareness and participation, satisfaction over level of governance and civic amenities, and BBMP elections.

Ismail Kanathur in his library at his house, at Navagrama in Balepuni village

MAN OF LETTERS

This scrap dealer not literate, but has 2k book library at home

VINCENT D'SOUZA @ Mangaluru

ONE need not be a scholar to understand the value of knowledge. An illiterate scrap dealer in Hoohakuvakallu village, about 28 km from Mangaluru city, has proved it.

Ismail Kanathur, 50, has built a small library at his house at Navagrama in Balepuni village. He seldom treated as scrap the books he got along with piles of discarded items in the last 15 years. Everyday, he isolates books which he thinks are invaluable from heaps of paper waste in his crammed shop. Many books preserved by him have found their way to libraries of educational institutions while some teachers, students and other individuals have also taken them from him. "I don't charge even a penny for it. I had no luxury of education. At least others should be benefit from it," says Ismail, who is popularly known as 'Gandhi' for his services in education.

Borrowing books and getting them for free was happening since many years. A few weeks ago, a learned person gave him the idea of setting up his own library. "This gentlemen who laid his hands on one particular book in my shop said that it costs Rs 2,000 in the market. I told him that I do not sell books and asked him to take it if it is useful for him. He refused to take it for free and forcibly thrust some currency notes in my pocket," said Ismail.

While leaving the shop, he suggested Ismail to set up a library at his house as his shop does not have adequate space for books. The scrap dealer did not think twice and with the help of Janashikshana Trust moved the books to his house in Balepuni village. The books are arranged on a wooden shelf and villagers can borrow them.

He has also arranged some chairs under the shade of a scrapped dish umbrella to read books. Ismail says his library has at least 2,000 books. Krishna Muliya, member, Janashikshana Trust, described Ismail as a role model who always reaches out to people in distress. "He has saved many lives by shifting accident victims to hospital, helped poor girls get married through crowd-funding among other activities."

BBMP DEMOLITION

Drive to resume against 29 properties under HC stay

MOHAMMED YACOOB @Bengaluru:

AFTER 61 property owners approached the Karnataka High Court against the BBMP's storm water encroachment removal drive, the Chief Commissioner ordered the civic body to file a caveat. SWD Chief Engineer Lokesh said by following the procedure and filing a caveat, it has got the order to take steps under Section 104 of the Karnataka Land Revenue Act and Disaster Management Act 2005, against 29 properties from Bengaluru East tahsildar, and is likely to move its JCBs in soon. Most of the properties are situated in Munnekolalu village and Amani Belanduru Khane village, Varthur hobli.

It is said that 31 owners were served notice under Section 104 of the KLR Act by the Revenue department, and asked to remove the encroachments themselves. In cases where owners failed to take steps, the Revenue department ordered BBMP to step in. Of 31 owners, the Palike will have to exclude two owners and wait for the outcome of a writ petition filed in the HC.

According to the Bengaluru East tahsildar's order, "By invoking action under Section 104 of KLR Act and provisions of the Disaster Management Act 2005, I direct the respondents to remove the encroachment on subject survey numbers… identified in the two survey sketches prepared by the ADLR (Assistant Director of Land Records), surveyors forthwith."

The order stated, "Failing which, officials of the Storm Water Drain wing of BBMP, with the assistance of the concerned surveyor, in the presence of the concerned Revenue Officer of BBMP and Deputy Tahsildar, have to take steps to remove the encroachment over the nala/kaluve as physically marked by surveyor. Removal of the encroachment, excluding the subject properties in Writ petition number 18842/2022 and 18828/2022 in the Hon'ble Karnataka High Court."

Depending on the outcome of writ petition, BBMP will have to take steps on two properties of Sandeep Kumar Bhattacharya and Ranjit Kumar Mandal.

BBMP moves bulldozers to upscale properties

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

BBMP, which came under severe criticism for moving into residential areas in AECS Layout and demolishing a few sheds but not touching big properties, on Wednesday moved its bulldozers to upscale Greenwood Regency, developed by Astro Developers in Doddakanelli, on Sarjapura Road.

On Tuesday, the Palike had broken walls built on drains by Salarpuria Developers. The civic body claimed that a 150-metre long rain gutter on the Greenwood premises is almost complete, the compound wall built over the storm drain has been cleared and only a grill installed on the slab needs to be removed.

However, residents claim that their property was not marked, and only neighbouring properties were marked for demolition earlier. BBMP gave them a week's time to shift all underground pipes and cables, but in a day or two, it demolished some parts and left debris on the premises.

The municipality also moved its JCBs to Valliamma Layout of Kasavanahalli, and cleared an RCC bridge built on the rajakaluve behind Marathahalli Police Station on the BWSSB premises. The drive will continue on Thursday to clear the remaining portion of the bridge.

Meanwhile, revenue department surveyors are deployed at different survey numbers in Mahadevapura zone and based on the report submitted, encroached areas coming under Kasavanahalli and Hoodi will be cleared.

DETAILED DRAINAGE SYSTEM IGNORED IN MASTER PLANS: CONG MLC

Congress MLC PR Ramesh said not including a detailed drainage system plan in any of the development plans is the reason for the recent flooding in Bengaluru. During the discussion in the legislative council on the floods across the state due to heavy rains, on Wednesday, the former mayor of Bengaluru said the first Comprehensive Development Plan (CDP) for the city was drafted in 1984 and a revised CDP was introduced in 1997. "Ten years later, a master plan was drafted in 2007. All three had no mention of a detailed drainage system. Hence, the officials gave sanctions to building plans ignoring the drainage system and we are seeing its impact now," he said. ENS

Govt: Will soon widen Ballari Road stretch

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

THE state government on Wednesday informed the Karnataka High Court that it has decided to take up work immediately to widen Ballari Road from Cauvery Junction to Mekhri Circle on the land which already belongs to it. It said the aim is to provide an alternative measure to ease traffic congestion until the issue of Transferable Development Right (TDR) pending before the Supreme Court is resolved.

An affidavit to this effect was filed before a division bench of Acting Chief Justice Alok Aradhe and Justice S Vishwajith Shetty during the hearing of a public interest litigation (PIL) filed by Samarpana, a socio-cultural organisation, through advocate G R Mohan, seeking directions to widen the road.

The government also stated in the affidavit that it will consider constructing a flyover or an underpass to ease traffic snarls on that stretch of road and also explore alternative access to the various marriage halls and kalyan mantapas which add to the traffic congestion on the route.

The affidavit was filed by Rakesh Singh, Additional Chief Secretary, Urban Development Department, who said that these decisions were taken in a meeting chaired by Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai on September 16, 2022.

Recording the submission, the court granted three weeks time to the state government to inform how and in what way the stretch of the proposed road will be widened as it was not specified in the affidavit.

Stating that it is taking measures to ease traffic congestion on the stretch of road from Kempegowda International Airport in a more scientific and technical basis, the government said a decision in this regard will be taken and placed before the court for consideration of other options.

Hearing of pleas against reservation adjourned to Sept 27

Bengaluru: The Karnataka High Court on Wednesday adjourned hearing of a batch of petitions challenging the notification issued by the Urban Development Department on reservation for 243 wards of Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike to September 27. Justice Hemant Chandangoudar adjourned the hearing after issuing notice to the state government and BBMP on fresh petitions filed against the reservation notification.

Senior advocate K N Phanindra, representing the State Election Commission, informed the court that they will publish the final voters' list on September 29.

Varsity to set up animal shelter on campus

DONNA EVA @ Bengaluru

COMBINING community service and prioritising mental health of its students, the CMR University on Wednesday announced that it will set up an animal shelter, 'Action Compassion for Saving Animals' (ACSA), on its campus.

It will also introduce a Community Service Programme in the Common Core Curriculum. All undergraduate and postgraduate students have to compulsorily take up a minimum of 25 hours of community service per semester from this year.

ACSA is claimed to be the first such animal shelter within a university in the country with students being made to volunteer. The shelter is set to be launched in November, during the university's Founder's Day celebrations. "We've partnered with various NGOs. We will take up the rehabilitation of dogs. The shelter will be run by students, but we will have an on-site veterinarian and other staff. We are all animal lovers, and that is why we thought it would be a good idea to build a shelter on the campus," said university Vice-Chancellor Dr Tristha Ramamurthy.

The shelter will house dogs that are aged and not fit to be adopted, as well as those that have been injured and in need of rehabilitation, Dr Ramamurthy said. "We will have adoption drives if there is interest," she said.

Suburban rail project may be named after Ananth Kumar

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

THE state government is planning to name the Bengaluru Suburban Rail project after BJP leader and former Union minister Ananth Kumar.

Housing and Infrastructure Development Minister V Somanna informed the Legislative Council that Ananth Kumar had played an important role in taking up the project when he was Urban Development Minister in the Vajpayee government.

On implementation of the project, Somanna said the 148.17-km Suburban Rail Project is being implemented jointly by the state government and the Railway Ministry.

The Centre had approved Rs 15,767 crore project with four corridors – KSR Bengaluru to Yelahanka to Devanahalli (41.40 km), Baiyappanhalli to Chikkabanavara (25.01 km), Kengeri to Whitefield (35.52 km) and Heelalige to Rajanakunte (46.24 km).

The cost of the project has escalated from around Rs 6,000 crore to over Rs 15,000 crore and the government is taking steps to expedite its implementation, he said.

More recently Ted Hughes has included it in his verse. His name may not be so well-known, but he was actually 'Poet Laureate', which is the closest thing Britain has to an official royal poet.

ARIES
(Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
Today's major planetary aspect is not especially rare, but is essential if you are ready to reach any agreements or finalise lasting arrangements. Friends and associates are relying on you, and there'll come a point quite soon when you'll have to rise to a fresh personal challenge.

TAURUS
(Apr. 21 - May 21)
One aspect of your life to which you may turn your attention is your physical well-being. Get your diet in order and see to it that you are taking appropriate exercise before you find yourself run down and under the weather. In matters of the heart family relationships count for most, so you know where your loyalties lie.

GEMINI
(May 22 - June 21)
Mercury, the most important planet in your personal scheme of things, is in such a fortunate relationship with Venus that all past differences should now be forgotten. You are at your charming best, especially when you sense adventure on the road ahead.

CANCER
(June 22 - July 23)
The best you can do with today's planetary alignments is use them to secure approval for your plans at home, whether you are concerned with entertaining or, as seems more likely, with chores and repairs. Basically, it's a brilliant day for keeping busy.

LEO
(July 24 - Aug. 23)
Happily, the planets are now moving sharply from a position that was obstructive and liable to cause misunderstandings to one which is facilitating travel - and aiding all-round agreement. But, before you're free, there will be one last hurdle to overcome.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
You are not entirely free of extravagant, wasteful pressures yet one of today's principal planetary aspects is superb for all those involved in property transactions and domestic spending. You will be in line for some more generosity from partners, so stick around.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
Today's stars are very favourable for all short-distance travel, meetings and discu-ssions. Now is therefore the time to put forward your suggestions and proposals in a clear and reasoned manner. It is up to you to get your thoughts organised so that other people understand them.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
Something has already been suggested about the prospects for discreet financial arrangements. Today these will move one step closer, but please be generous and try and spread your good fortune around. Younger relations and children deserve your first attention.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
This may sound like old-fashioned fortune-telling, but one reading of today's planetary pattern is that all your wishes are about to come true. From a realistic perspective, though, it's all a matter of what you actually want. It also depends on whether you are prepared to put certain preconceptions to one side.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
You may imagine you have something to fear from other people going behind your back, but the truth is probably quite the opposite. You, in turn, can help others through your discreet and selfless actions. Also, feel free to spend as much time by yourself as you need.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
Venus and Mercury are arranged in a lovely relationship to each other and an ideal aspect with your sign. This is therefore the moment to move on to the next phase of life regarding all new ideas and proposals. In short, it's a passionate period, one when you can pressurise other people into supporting you - if you pick the right time.

PISCES
(Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
People in power and authority are about to see you at your most pleasant and will look kindly on all your modest ventures. In addition, an increase in your earnings now looks imminent. Romantically, you're still motivated by fantasy rather than by the facts: good for you!

The Hanumanthanagar police arrested five poachers in three separate cases and recovered a leopard skin, elephant tusks, tiger canines and claws, along with idols made of ivory. All five of them have been booked under The Wild Life (Protection) Act, 1972

Search launched for those behind CM posters

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

BENGALURU Police Commissioner C H Pratap Reddy said the police are on the hunt for those who pasted the 'PayCM' posters. "The Central Division Police registered cases under the Public Places Disfigurement Act," he said. The cases have been transferred to the City Crime Branch (CCB).

The commissioner said he has directed all DCPs to look for such posters in their respective divisions and register cases. On Wednesday morning, the High Grounds police registered a case pertaining to the posters.

Later in the day, the Sadashivanagar and the Seshadripuram police registered cases. All three police stations come under the Central division and the Deputy Commissioner of Police (DCP) concerned is looking into the matter. The cases have been registered following complaints from BBMP officials.

'PayCM' posters surfaced even in North Division's J C Nagar and Sanjaynagar police station limits and East division's Bharathinagar police station limits.

"If the posters are found elsewhere, police will file a case. We are also examining CCTV footage of a hotel where the posters were found," the commissioner.

The posters have been pasted in bus shelters and also at a construction site. Most of the posters which were put up at Mekhri Circle, Palace Road, Balekundri Circle and other places were removed by the civic authorities.

Mystery shrouds death of woman, boyfriend

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

A 23-year-old private firm employee and her boyfriend were found dead under mysterious circumstances at her rented house in Hebbagodi police limits. The incident came to light on Tuesday.

The bodies of Netravathi and Mallikarjun (27) were found at her house on Hebbagodi Main Road. Mallikarjun was hanging from the ceiling, while Nethravathi, who had vomited, was lying dead on the floor, after consuming some poison.

Both were from KR Pet in Mandya district and were in a relationship since their college days. Netravathi was working as a helper at a company in Hebbagodi Industrial Area, while Mallikarjun was a painter in his hometown. The two had frequent fights as she did not want to continue the relationship, it is said.

KAS officer caught while returning bribe

ENS @ Bengaluru

USUALLY, Lokayukta police lay a trap and arrest the accused while accepting a bribe. But in a reverse case on Wednesday, they trapped a KAS officer and land surveyor, both attached to KIADB, while they were returning Rs 3 lakh, including a bribe of Rs 2.50 lakh, accepted for issuing 'NoC', along with Rs 50,000 to the complainant, to withdraw the complaint.

The first accused is AB Vijayakumar, Special Land Acquisition Officer-II, and second accused is Raghunath, land surveyor, attached to the office of the first accused.

The officials demanded Rs 2.50 lakh bribe to issue NoC to the complainant, Bhagath Singh Arun. Later, they issued an NoC after taking a bribe of Rs 2.50 lakh.

Arun lodged a complaint with the KIADB DC (Land Acquisition). Then they two requested Arun to take back the bribe, along with Rs 50,000, and withdraw the complaint. The Lokayukta, whom Arun had approached, trapped the two accused officials.

SC/ST panel cannot pass order on grants: HC

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court quashed the order passed by the Karnataka State Commission of Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes, directing the state government to withhold grants being made to Sri Vasavi Education Society for demoting a headmaster who belongs to Scheduled Caste, to the post of teacher, on charges of misconduct.

Justice MI Arun passed the order while allowing the petition filed by Vasavi Education Society, Hosapete of Vjayanagar, challenging the Commission's order dated September 16, 2021. It was based on a complaint filed by H Hanumantha from Hosapete.

The court said the Commission is constituted under Section 8 of the Karnataka State Commission of Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes Act, and Section 8(B) of the Act provided powers to inquire into specific complaints with respect to deprivation of rights, and safeguard those who belong to SC and ST, and take up such matters with the appropriate authorities. But the clause does not empower the Commission to direct the authorities to withhold grants made in favour of an institution, as done in this case, the court added.

REPORT ON CET RANKING TO BE SUBMITTED TO HC TODAY

The HC-mandated report on CET ranking was submitted to the government on Wednesday, and will be submitted before the court on Thursday. The HC asked the government to constitute a panel and prepare a coordination formula to sort out the issue of CET rankings, following an appeal filed by the government on problems of students who wrote CET.

People with dementia fail to get post-diagnosis care

BALA CHAUHAN @ Bengaluru

UP to 85 per cent of the over 55 million people living with dementia may not receive post-diagnosis care, states the World Alzheimer's Report 2022: Life after diagnosis: Navigating Treatment, Care and Support. It is co-authored by McGill University and released by Alzheimer's Disease International (ADI) on the occasion of World Alzheimer's Day (WAD) on September 21. ADI is the international federation of 105 Alzheimer and dementia associations around the world.

In India, the prevalence of dementia is also seeing a steep curve. Dementia is a chronic progressive neurological disorder that is reported as the second leading cause of total deaths due to neurological disorders in the country. The Global Burden of Disease (GBD) study reports an estimated 3.8 million people were living with dementia in 2019 in India, and this number is expected to rise by 197 per cent to 11.4 million by 2050. The GBD study was conducted as part of the Strengthening Responses to Dementia in Developing Countries (STRiDE) project led by the London School of Economics and Political Science (LSE) in the UK, National Institute of Mental Health and Neurosciences (Nimhans) and Alzheimer's and Related Disorders Society of India (ARDSI).

India has a population of 1.3 billion and the majority (68.8 per cent as per Census 2011) resides in rural areas. It is estimated that around 10.1 per cent of the population comprised individuals aged 60 and above in 2021, and is anticipated to rise to almost 15 per cent by 2036.

The World Alzheimer's Report has called for urgent improvements to post-diagnosis treatment, care and support services for over 55 million people living with dementia across the globe, and plans to support the forecast of 139 million people by 2050.

"We don't question whether people with cancer need treatment, so why is it that when people receive a dementia diagnosis, they're often not offered treatment or care? They're just told to get their end-of-life affairs in order," said ADI CEO Paola Barbarino. "While dementia doesn't yet have a disease-modifying 'cure', there is clear evidence that appropriate post-diagnosis treatment, care and support significantly improves their quality of life."

KEY FINDINGS OF 2022 ADI REPORT

- A surprising number of people living with dementia indicated they had not been offered post-diagnosis support, beyond initial information
- 64% of respondents indicated they didn't have a personalised care plan as their condition progressed
- Informal carers said stress was a very common factor while trying to cope with responsibilities

RECOMMENDATIONS OF ADI REPORT

- Make national dementia plans a policy priority
- Provide person-centred, culturally-appropriate, gender-inclusive care, supported by trained personel
- Improve and expand education
- Stigma to be further challenged

Wakf scam: Govt to study Upa Lokayukta's report

One of the biggest scandals running up to Rs 2 lakh crore, CM warns Opposition

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE state government on Wednesday decided to take the next step on a report filed in 2012 by then Minority Commission chairman Anwar Manippady on the alleged grabbing of wakf properties running into several thousand acres and valued over Rs 2 lakh crore. The government will study a Upa Lokayukta inquiry report, which authenticated the Manippady report.

"We will study the 13-volume report by the Upa Lokayukta and also furnish copies to members of the House for a detailed discussion as people of Karnataka should know the facts," asserted Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai, while replying to a calling attention motion in the Assembly by ruling BJP members Basanagouda Patil Yatnal, Raghupathy Bhat and Sanjiva Matanduru.

"When we are ready to discuss the baseless 40 per cent commission allegation against the government, why not discuss a big scam in which government properties worth over Rs 2 lakh crore were grabbed? Is there any bigger corruption than this? Wait and watch whose names will come out," he said, in a warning to Congress leaders.

When deputy leader of opposition and Congress MLA UT Khader alleged that the Manippady report is being brought before the House to divert the attention from the 40 per cent commission scam, Raghupathy Bhat said Khader should keep his cool as his name does not figure in the report.

Yatnal insisted that the Wakf Board should be suspended and the case handed over to the CBI.

Law minister JC Madhu Swamy said. "We placed the report on the floor of the House following the High Court directions in 2020."

Wakf Minister Shashikala Jolle said the report was tabled in both Houses in September 2020.

"About 27,000 acres of 54,000 acres of wakf properties worth Rs 2.3 lakh crore have been allegedly grabbed," she said, adding that the report was rejected by the then Siddaramaiah government.

Manippady submitted his report to then chief minister DV Sadananda Gowda on March 26, 2012.

HIGHLIGHTS

Names of about a dozen senior Congress leaders figures in the Manipady report.

Of 54,000 acres of wakf properties, 29,000 acres were grabbed by accused leaders.

The government sent the Manippady report to the Lokayukta on July 4, 2012 to authenticate facts.

Upa Lokayukta Justice Anand submitted the report to the government on March 4, 2016.

Right to Freedom of Religion Bill passed in Assembly

The Karnataka Protection of Right to Freedom of Religion Bill, 2022, was passed in the Assembly on Wednesday, even as Congress members staged a walkout. The Bill was passed in the Council last Thursday with minor amendments, seeking to replace the Ordinance that was in place from May 2022. It was passed in the Assembly. Around 2.30 pm, even as a heated debate raged while the Karnataka State Universities (Amendment) Bill was being passed, Congress MLA and former minister Krishna Byregowda approached Speaker Vishweshwar Hegde Kageri and whispered to him that the Opposition would walk out of the House, when the Karnataka Protection of Right to Freedom of Religion Bill, 2022, would be placed for passage.

BJP demands tabling of report on encroachment of Wakf properties

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

MEMBERS of the ruling BJP and Opposition Congress had a heated exchange over tabling of a report by former chairman of Minority Commission Anwar Manippady, on alleged grabbing of Wakf Board properties across the state.

As soon as the session commenced on Wednesday, BJP MLCs N Ravi Kumar, YA Narayanaswamy and other members urged Pro-tem Chairman Raghunath Rao Malkapure to direct the government to table the report that was submitted to the state government. Narayanaswamy said it was a Rs 2-lakh crore scam and the report needs to be tabled in the Council.

BJP members even said they will enter the well of the House, demanding the chairman to issue directions to the government.

The BJP's demand led to a pandemonium as the Congress members termed it an attempt to divert the attention from the serious allegations of corruption against its own government.

The report was submitted to the government over a decade ago, and had reportedly named many senior Congress leaders.

The BJP's demand to table the report is seen as an attempt to counter the Congress that is attacking the government over corruption allegations, including the 40 per cent commissioner charge by the Contractors Association.

'CAMPAIGN BASED ON PUBLIC OPINION'

Congress MLA Priyank Kharge said, "It is not a personal attack but we have launched a campaign based on public opinion on corruption". The ruling BJP too took to social media to hit out at the Congress. They put out posters with photographs of CLP leader Siddaramaiah and KPCC chief D K Shivakumar alleging that they had looted the state of Karnataka when they were in power. 'Scan this to remove this duo from Karnataka', the BJP poster on social media read. Meanwhile, the AAP in Karnataka clubbed both the posters to create its own with 'PayCm 40 per cent accepted here, pay X cm 20 per cent accepted here' slogan.

Ashoka: Will ask MPs, MLAs to reserve lands to tackle shortage

ENS @ Bengaluru

REVENUE Minister R Ashoka on Wednesday said he will write to MLAs, MLCs and MPs to reserve government lands, so that there won't be any shortage of land for the next 50 years.

Replying to a question by BJP member Gopinath Reddy in the Legislative Council on Wednesday, the minister said that going by the current trend, no government land will be available to build hospitals, schools or colleges in the next 20 years. "When I visited a village in Davanagere recently, there was no graveyard there and no one was willing to provide land for the purpose. At present, there are no graveyards in around 2,000 villages," he said.

"To tackle the issue, I will write to all MLAs, MLCs, and MPs in the next week, requesting them to identify and reserve government lands so that there won't be a shortage of land for the next 50 years. We will also take steps to protect the available land from encroachment," he added. He further added that there was a delay in giving compensation to the kin of Covid-19 victims in some cases, as they had not linked their Aadhaar numbers to their bank accounts. He was replying to a question by Congress MLC UB Venkatesh.

POLITICAL THEATRE

Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai meets former Prime Minister HD Deve Gowda, who has been ailing for a while, at the latter's residence in Bengaluru on Wednesday. Bommai later said Gowda was active and spoke to him affectionately. "Let God give him good health and enable him to live longer so that he will continue to guide the state," he added. Many top political leaders have been calling on the JDS patriarch over the last few days. It started with Revenue Minister R Ashoka, and was followed by Congress Legislature Party leader Siddaramaiah and former CM BS Yediyurappa. Gowda has not attended any public function in the last three months due to ill-health and leg pain.

YATRA A FUTILE EFFORT: KATEEL

Hassan: BJP state president Nalinkumar Kateel on Wednesday termed Congress MP Rahul Gandhi's Bharat Jodo Yatra a futile exercise. Kateel slammed Rahul for his efforts to "unite the country", which he claimed was divided by Congress leaders decades ago. Speaking to reporters here, Kateel said the Congress in Karnataka is facing a different crisis, as KPCC chief DK Shivakumar and Opposition leader Siddaramaiah are at loggerheads with each other over several party-related matters, leading to factionalism. Kateel also slammed the Congress for blaming the Centre for the raids by Central agencies, claiming it was all to garner public sympathy.

BSY, VIJAYENDRA NOT AGAINST QUOTA FOR PANCHAMASALIS

Mysuru: With a Panchamasali seer and community members protesting in front of Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai residence in Shiggaon on Tuesday, and accusing senior BJP leader and former CM BS Yediyurappa of stalling the process to provide the 2A reservation status to the community, BJP state vice-president BY Vijayendra said here on Wednesday that either Yediyurappa or him are not against reservation and their names are dragged into the issue to dent their image. He said Yediyurappa has never opposed the reservation or prevailed on Bommai against it. Somebody has misguided the seer for political reasons, he added.

MODI YEARS BROUGHT HARDSHIP TO WOMEN, SAYS MAHILA CONGRESS CHIEF

Mysuru: All India Mahila Congress president Netta D'Souza said women have suffered hardship and pain in eight years of the Narendra Modi government. Addressing women workers at Congress Bhavan here on Wednesday, she said if future generations should be in safe hands, people must vote for the Congress. "There is no Hindu, Muslim, Sikh, Christian religion in the country. We all belong to one religion, women's religion. If women have to be safe and not sleep with an empty stomach, we must support the Congress. If anybody has suffered distress and pain in the past eight years, it is women. The prices of essential commodities and LPG have increased dramatically and affected women most," she said.

New legislation for univs to fix issues: Ashwath

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE state government will bring new comprehensive legislation governing both government and private universities stressing on holistic learning. The government-run university in each district will act as a multi-disciplinary institution that will merge with existing specialised universities. "These universities will be given freedom and also made accountable. Transparency will be ensured," Higher Education Minister Dr CN Ashwath Narayan said in the Assembly on Wednesday.

He said, "The Karnataka State Universities Act was passed 22 years ago. It was relevant then, but things have changed. There are many challenges, problems and solutions in the new legislation, which will be placed before the House. We can bring in accountability and reforms in universities through this legislation. We had constituted an expert committee that was working for the past couple of years. Its recommendations have been uploaded in the public domain."

Earlier, MLAs cutting across party lines raised concerns over universities lacking infrastructure and staff. On Wednesday, the Assembly passed the Karnataka State Universities (Amendment) Bill to create seven more new Universities at Bidar, Haveri, Chamarajanagar, Hassan, Ballari, Kodagu and Bagalkot.

Ashwath Naayan told TNIE that the new legislation is expected to be tabled in the winter session. It will address many issues raised by the legislators on Wednesday, he added.

MLAs and the Speaker raised concerns over the quality of education. "We are setting up many universities, but the quality of education seems to be a concern," said Speaker Vishveshwar Hegde Kageri. Congress MLA UT Khader said Mangaluru University has slipped from A grade to B. The government should bring in legislation to make vice-chancellors and Syndicate members accountable if grades fall, he added. Another Congress MLA MB Patil pointed to the shortage of teaching and non-teaching staff at the Karnataka State Akkamahadevi Women's University. Congress MLA Eshwar Khandre alleged that a VC post goes for Rs 5 crore to Rs 20 crore.

Regional parties gearing up for 2024, says HDK

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Kalaburagi

EFFORTS are on to strengthen regional parties in the country, going into the Lok Sabha elections in 2024, said former chief minister HD Kumaraswamy here on Wednesday.

Sharing details of the regional parties' strategy for the polls, Kumaraswamy said that he recently met Telangana Chief Minister K Chandrashekar Rao in Hyderabad and held discussions with regard to preparing at the national level and also discussed ways to improve living conditions for farmers as well as the weaker sections.

Answering a question, the former CM added that he agrees with Bihar Chief Minister Nitish Kumar's statement that Congress should support regional parties in defeating the BJP in the coming Lok Sabha elections. Asked whether he himself would take a lead in strengthening regional parties, Kumaraswamy said JDS is a small party, but he would surely lend all support for the cause of regional parties.

Meanwhile, referring to the issues of corruption that have recently emerged in the state going to the Assembly polls next year, Kumaraswamy claimed that both governments, led by the BJP and Congress, were corrupt. He also clarified that the the health of his father and JDS supremo, HD Deve Gowda, is improving.

Ready to discuss corruption: Bommai to Oppn

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

AS Opposition members in the Legislative Assembly were demanding that the Speaker permit them to speak about the alleged 40 per cent commission to contractors row, Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai said that his government is ready to discuss corruption in this session.

It all started when Leader of Opposition Siddaramaiah moved the motion to speak about the alleged commission scam in the BJP government. Speaker Vishweshwar Hegde Kageri, however, said this cannot be permitted, since the notice does not specify a particular issue. Also, if any member wishes to speak under Rule 69 (Adjournment Motion), it should have happened recently.

Meanwhile, the BJP MLA from Kuduchi Assembly constituency, P Rajeev, too moved an adjournment motion seeking that he be allowed to discuss corruption during Congress rule (2013-18). This resulted in a heated argument between the Congress and BJP members.

Replying to the House, however, the CM said, "We are ready to discuss corruption. If we discuss it, we will find a solution... The Speaker should allot a time for it in this session." Kageri said he will allow the House to discuss the matter.

8 in dock after Dalit boy fined ₹60K

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Kolar

EIGHT people were booked by Malur Masthi police after a minor Dalit boy was fined Rs 60,000 for touching the grama deity Boothamma. On Wednesday, Kolar Deputy Commissioner Venkata Raja, SP D Devaraj, Deputy SP Muralidhar and senior social welfare officers visited Ullerahalli of Masthi in Malur taluk, and spoke to the boy and his parents.

Raja told TNIE that strict action would be initiated against those involved in the incident. SP Devaraj said two teams were formed under his direct supervision to arrest the accused, and one team will be headed by Deputy SP Muralidhar, who is also investigating officer.

It is said that on September 8, when the deity of Boothamma was taken in a procession, the 15-year-old boy touched the idol, causing an uproar. Upper caste people called a panchayat and summoned the boy's parents. They demanded that the family pays a fine of Rs 60,000 for touching the Utsava Moorthy. They wanted the money to perform puja to purify the idol.

When the boy's mother Shobha said she couldn't pay up, the panchayat asked her to leave the village, and threatened them not to disclose it to anyone.

Following this, Sandeesh, president of the state unit of Dr Ambedkar Seva Samithi, urged police to act against those demanding a hefty fine from the family. Following a complaint by Shobha, police registered a case under various sections of the SC/ST Act, against Narayanaswamy, Ramesh, Narayanaswamy (former GP member), Venkateshappa, Kotteppa, Chalapathy, Mohan Rao (archak) and Chinnaiah, all residents of Ullerahalli. He instructed the social welfare department to immediately provide a job for Shobha on contract basis. Shobha had told him she commutes to Bengaluru every day for work, so it was decided to give a job where she gets a better salary. Raja said a cheque for Rs 25,000 had been given to Shobha, and the remaining amount will be given later.

THE report also showed that only 34 per cent of the respondents were most satisfied with mobility conditions in their wards. It also showed that 85 per cent of the respondents were aware of their previous ex-corporator and 70 per cent of those surveyed were of the opinion that ward committees will be effective in addressing various civic issues.

The top five issues that need attention in the wards are -- laying and maintenance of roads, garbage clearance, solid waste management, sewage management and public toilets.

Ananda Gundu Rao, member, B.PAC, said, "An elected council for BBMP is a crying need which can sharply focus on finding citizen-centric solutions on civic issues."

Guv now a tool in RSS hands, says Pinarayi Vijayan

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@T'Puram

ZEROING in on the governor's self-proclaimed close ties with the RSS, Chief Minister Pinarayi Vijayan on Wednesday alleged that Arif Mohammed Khan has stooped so low to become "a tool" in the hands of the Sangh Parivar fountainhead.

All his actions and outbursts against the state government stem out of his subservience to the RSS, Pinarayi alleged. There are allegations that the Raj Bhavan is being used as a centre for RSS activities, he said.

The governor wants to facilitate RSS' "backseat driving" in the universities funded by the state government, Pinarayi alleged, citing Khan's attempts to hasten the process to select a new vice-chancellor for the Kerala University. "Should we let universities become political laboratories of the RSS? Or should we bravely fight those attempts? A secular society will only select the latter path," he said.

The RSS, which wants to control the country's higher education sector, is using governors to get its associates appointed vice-chancellors in universities. He cited appointments in Central University of Kerala in Kasaragod as "the best example of such attempts". "This the reason why governors frequently create trouble for state governments," the CM said.

The governor can have disagreements with the government, but it should be communicated through proper channels. Pinarayi questioned whether the governor's announcement through the media that he will not sign certain bills amounts to respect to the constitution or its negation.

"He cannot refuse to honour the decisions of the cabinet and hold the bills indefinitely. As a governor, he is sworn to preserve, protect and defend the constitution," the CM said.

Complaint in Lokayukta against VTU VC, registrar

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

TWO High Court advocates have lodged a complaint with the Karnataka Lokayukta against Visvesvaraya Technological University (VTU), Belagavi, Vice-Chancellor Dr Karisiddappa and Registrar Prof Anand Deshpande, questioning the release of crores in funds at the fag end of the VC's term.

The complaint was filed in Bengaluru on Tuesday, barely three days before the search committee to shortlist candidates for the VC's post is scheduled to hold its crucial meeting in Bengaluru on Saturday.

Several former VTU VCs and registrars had raised objections to the release of large amounts of funds by the university when the VC had just two months left to complete his tenure.

Advocates DN Ramakrishna and Jagadish stated in the complaint that the two top officials of the university violated the Governor's circular and government order by releasing huge funds despite knowing that the search committee was about to select a new VC.

After filing the case, Ramakrishna said, "We have produced all the relevant documents supporting our claims. So far, we have documents related to the release of Rs 35 crore and we are waiting for details of other bills worth Rs 40 crore released by VTU in recent days,'' he added. The funds were released through cheques signed by Deshpande on behalf of the university, he alleged.

Meanwhile, in a press note on Wednesday, the university denied all the allegations. "The payments were related to ongoing projects and routine expenses as approved by the Executive Council. No new policy decisions have been taken and actions of the university are in adherence with the governor's order.

25-day-old baby rescued in Chamarajanagar

Mysuru: The Chamarajanagar Police have rescued a 25-day-old baby, who was sold by a couple to clear their debts, and handed over the infant to the Child Welfare Committee. Police and Women and Child Welfare Department officials swung into action, following a TNIE story on a Mysore University transgender-scholar exposing a child trafficking incident in Chamarajanagar, and picked up Nagaveni's husband Basava, who worked at a hotel, for selling the baby through a fellow staffer. The cops picked up four people, who had helped Basava sell the baby, from Galipura in Chamarajnagar, and tracked down another couple who had bought the child through an agent. The baby has been admitted for routine check-up. The mother has been allowed to stay in the hospital to feed the infant. ENS

ASSESSING the behaviour and adaptation of the cheetahs, the team members on Wednesday (the fifth day of their release in Kuno), said: "So far, their behaviour is normal and if the same continues, they will be released into the wild ahead of the stipulated time of 30 days." The two, who already seem to have developed a strong affection for the cheetahs, say that the weather at Kuno is much better than in Namibia and other African regions and the animals have already started to feel relaxed.

"Even though the animals have a code ID number and radio collar number, yet for easy communication, each of them have been named. The males are Freddie, Elton and Oban, and the females are Asha (named by PM Modi), Siyaya, Tibilisi, Sasha and Savannah. While Sasha and Savanna are co-related, Elton and Freddie are like rock stars. Oban seems to be a more dominant male so far," they observed.

The two rubbished reports that deer meat was being fed much to the anger of Bishnoi community. "We are feeding them buffalo meat at present as per international quarantine norms. The habitat where they will released has over 20,000 spotted deer alone, apart from wild boars, hare and four-horned antelope, a sufficient and healthy prey base for over 20 cheetahs to survive. A monitoring and review task force is being constituted to review their progress," the team said.

KCR's TRIBAL QUOTA CARD TO CORNER BJP IS DOUBLE-EDGED

Raising the hopes of the tribals and apparently, to steal a march over the Bharatiya Janata Party, Telangana Chief Minister K Chandrashekar Rao made two politically loaded promises on the occasion of the Telangana National Integration Day on September 17. They were: enhancement of reservations to tribals from the present 6% to 10% in education and employment and rolling out Girijana Bandhu, a new scheme to be modeled on the lines of the Dalit Bandhu under which Dalit youths get ₹10 lakh grant to set up their own businesses.

The proposal for increasing reservations to tribals has been hanging fire for a long time. In April 2017, the Telangana Assembly and Council had passed a bill and sent it for the President's assent. But for the last five years, it has been gathering dust in the nation's capital. The bill sought to hike the quota, despite the fact that in such a case, total reservations would exceed the 50% limit. Currently, reservations in the state stand at 64%, including 4% for Muslims as ordered by the Supreme Court, and 10% for the economically weaker sections. The chief minister, in his inimitable style, declared his intention to issue a GO soon as his patience was wearing thin. "I don't care what the Centre does. Let it hang itself using the GO as a rope," he scoffed.

The moot question is, why did KCR rake up the issue at this juncture? The saffron party has been surging ahead, seeking to consolidate behind it the Hindu vote. A pitch for reservations to tribals could not only possibly push the BJP onto the backfoot but also divert the narrative from its Hindu-Muslim rhetoric. The Modi government, of course, cannot hike the quota no matter how much KCR insists it could be done if the Act is placed in the ninth schedule of the Constitution as was done in the case of Tamil Nadu.

The reason being, it will open a Pandora's box with similar demands gaining steam in other states. In short, it is a clever political maneuver. Reservation is a sensitive matter and moves of this sort only end up disappointing the tribals who do not deserve to be played with. To his credit, KCR's demand is not new, but if he is serious, he should not wash his hands off with a GO. He should make a strong case and pursue it relentlessly.

SHORT-CIRCUITED POWER REGULATOR

Sometime late last month, Odisha Electricity Regulatory Commission (OERC), the power regulator of the state, issued a bizarre direction to all its employees asking them to take a pledge of official secrecy and not let out any internal information. The quasi-judicial body, in the eye of controversy over concentration of power with a handful of officials, structural deficiency and tariff determination process, was reacting to a volley of bad press it has been garnering of late.

The commission, for record's sake, has been running without a chairperson since January. Speculation is rife that the top seat is being kept warm for a senior bureaucrat. The pattern is familiar because the last two chairpersons have been retired IAS officers only. This is symptomatic of the problem. The regulatory authority is accused of overlooking the basic mandates of structural and professional reforms it is supposed to usher in across state power utilities. Much as it is making do with just two members, the power regulator has glossed over the need for appointing directors to three critical verticals of law, tariff and engineering. Instead, it has accumulated powers at various positions and allowed engineers to call the shots even in the wings of finance and tariff.

Odisha was the harbinger of power sector reforms in India. In the mid-1990s, it brought in privatisation into the distribution business. Sweeping structural changes decentralised generation, transmission and distribution so that affordable and quality power was made available to consumers. Twenty-five years hence, the results are anything but encouraging. An energy think tank's survey in 2020 showed rural households experienced power outages for at least four hours a day; it was an hour in urban areas. Majority of rural households suffered at least one power cut a day while just under a third of urban holdings faced quality power problems. After a quarter century of reforms, the aggregated technical and commercial losses still peg around 20%.

With a total consumer base of 88.5 lakh, Odisha's power consumption—an index of economic growth—rose by a paltry 1.1% in 2019–20. The regulatory commission must own up to the sluggishness. Once the mascot of reforms, it is now charged with overlooking consumer interests. To set the affairs in order, charity must begin at home.

QUICK TAKE

COMPETITIVE EXAM CULTURE

This year's NEET cut-off score is the lowest since 2017. The generosity is due to candidates scoring fewer marks because the pandemic disrupted their preparation schedules. But that cannot be a viable reason to dilute eligibility procedures of national tests for professional courses, that too a critical medical degree. The UPSC and JEE (Advanced) exams are attractive even if they are the hardest because they don't compromise on the quality of inductees. Also, as millions take these tests, the exercise is more about eliminating the ineligible. Treating qualifying marks as freebies is no way to preserve a competitive exam culture.

Politics in much of the region has long ceased to be ideology-determined. The primary goal of legislators now is to seek an alliance with any party in power

NORTHEAST POLITICS IS NOW LARGELY TRANSACTIONAL

PRADIP PHANJOUBAM

Editor of Imphal Review of Arts and Politics

The law that defines and governs loyalty in India's electoral politics distinguishes between "defection" and "merger". The 10th Schedule prohibits the first, and a legislator who wishes to change party loyalty must forsake his seat in the legislature.

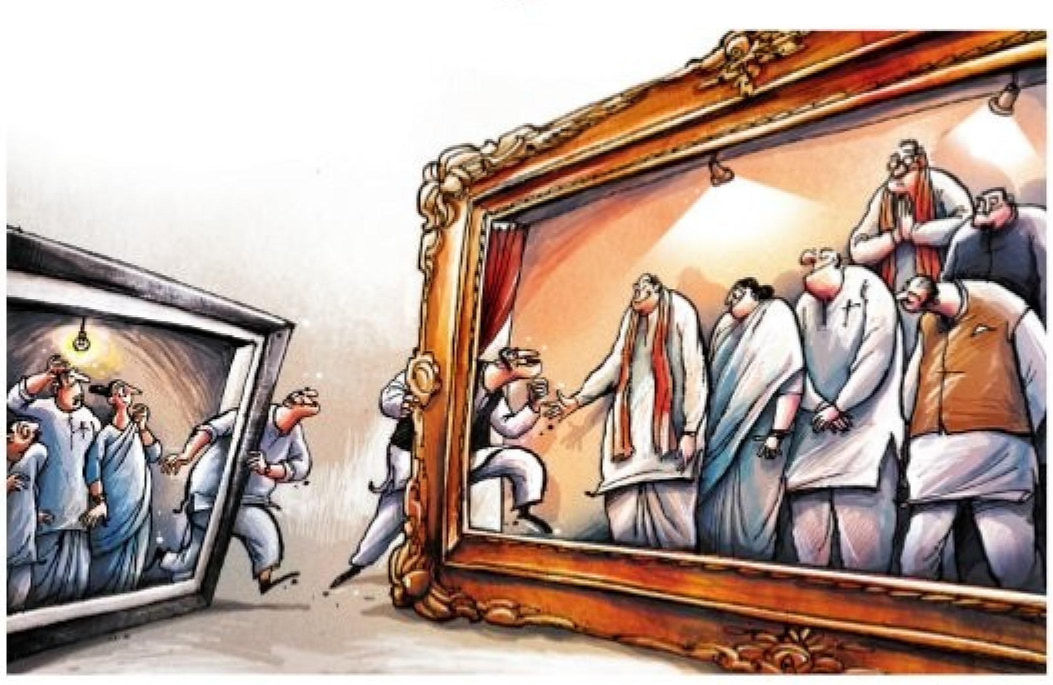
On the other hand, the second is permitted by the same law, provided those who want to merge with another party command the support of two-thirds of the elected members in their original party. However, if in letter the law sees these two overtures as different, in spirit, they are virtually the same—both amount to legislators betraying their original parties on whose tickets they won their seats in legislative bodies.

Ideally, the letter of the law and the spirit of the law should be congruent. When this is not so, even though some affronts may not have legal consequences, they still cannot avoid evoking a sense of injustice amongst many. The recent merger of five of six Janata Dal (United) MLAs with the ruling Bharatiya Janata Party in Manipur demonstrates this. There was nothing constitutionally wrong with this, but the move was widely met with public disdain and ridicule.

Similarly, two other north-eastern states, Arunachal Pradesh and Meghalaya, witnessed near-identical outrages earlier. In Arunachal Pradesh, the JD(U) had won seven seats in the April 2019 State Assembly elections and emerged as the second-largest party behind the ruling BJP's 41.

However, on December 25, 2020, six of them decided to merge with the BJP. The single MLA who stayed behind also apparently changed his mind and merged with the BJP on August 24, 2022. In Meghalaya, 12 of the original 21 Congress MLAs who returned in the 2018 election decided to merge with the All-India Trinamool Congress in December 2021.

The point is that party-hopping by MLAs has become a normalised abnormality in these states. Besides being able to dodge the Anti-Defection Law with dexterity, they now seemingly do not even worry about any severe or critical public scrutiny, which can have a consequence on their electoral fortunes. The latter now has apparently resigned to this reality of political infidelity and, despite the knowledge that it is wrong, accepted it as the new normal.



SOUMYADIP SINHA

Indeed, politics in much of the region has long ceased to be ideology-determined and has instead come to be transactional, in which the primary goal of legislators is to seek an alliance with any party in power.

But the truth also is that although particular legislation may be silent on certain matters of justice, there are unwritten and intuitive senses of rectitude pertaining to these matters that all human societies hold and value. This civilisational quality seems to be on the wane in the political arenas of the region.

The complexity of the idea of jurisprudence coming out of dialectics between these written and unwritten ideas of justice is what is being ruined beyond recognition by these elected leaders, and few seem prepared—much less eager—to have the damage repaired.

A comparison with the case of the Armed Forces Special Powers Act (AFSPA), a law the northeast is all too familiar with, should bring home the point. AFSPA is a law legislated and given legal sanctity by Parliament—therefore, acting as per its provisions cannot amount to any infringement of law.

Yet, a greater section of people in the region is vehemently opposed to it. This is because in AFSPA, too, there is the same dichotomy between the letter and the spirit of the law. The spirit is to protect the innocent, but in reality, the letter itself becomes an instrument for violating this very spirit, especially by the legal impunity clause provided to the armed forces operating under it.

Few have illustrated this dichotomy more succinctly than Devdutt Pattanaik, author of several books on Indian mythology. As he points out, the great Hindu epics Ramayana and Mahabharata are rich with analogies of this. In the age of innocence (Satya Yug), the letter and the spirit of the law are not allowed to diverge. Belonging to this age, Lord Ram, for instance, keeps his father's promise made to his stepmother to exile himself for 14 years in the jungle, although there is no law that compels him to do so.

In the age of experience (Kali Yug), the primacy of the idea of justice begins to lean towards the letter of the law. Hence, a man like Duryodhana of Mahabharata never goes against the letter of any law but has no scruples in using this same letter to violate its spirit. The famous dice game in which he wins Draupadi from the Pandava brothers is most illustrative.

By the law of the time, the win at the gambling table makes the queen his property, with the right to strip and humiliate her in public. He seeks consensus from the gathered nobility on whether he was wrong in his interpretation, and nobody could think of a legal point to challenge his contention, though horrified by the idea. He then goes ahead to have the queen disrobed.

At such times, the need for intervention by a higher legal order comes to be felt. In this case, it is the divine intervention of Lord Krishna who decides to break the letter of this law to rescue its spirit. Those familiar with the Mahabharata would also know that throughout the epic, Lord Krishna, on several occasions, resorts to saving the spirit of laws even if it means breaking their letters.

Pattanaik also brings up other analogies to highlight more nuances of this interplay between the letter and the spirit of the law. Hence, Yudhisthir, someone who aspires to be Ram, tries to keep the law's letter and spirit intact. His direct opposite is Ravana, for whom neither the letter nor the spirit of the law mattered. Instead, his whims became the law.

This is what a true despot is. And ironically, those who today swear by Lord Ram and his virtues have no trouble encouraging or taking advantage of this increasing dichotomy between the letter and the spirit of the law.

FLOWING WITH THE RIVER: REFLECTIONS FROM THE YATRA

SACHIN RAO

Invitee to the Congress Working Committee. He is taking part in the Bharat Jodo Yatra

The first week of the Bharat Jodo Yatra was an emotional one. After wandering through the cynical desert of everyday politics, it feels as if I have stumbled unexpectedly upon a life-giving river that nurtures all those who submit to her flow. The river burst forth tumultuous from a sangam of the seas. Mighty, exuberant, almost raucous. And yet tentative, self-conscious and surprised by her own power. But most of all, she is inevitable. The turning Universe has made this time and place hers alone.

I arrive in Kanyakumari on September 7, my fiftieth birthday. An early flight, a long drive on jammed roads, the chaos, and the audacity bordering on the madness of the idea of walking the length of India at the rate of a half marathon a day weigh me down. I can hear a voice in my head asking, 'Kaha phas gaya re tu?'

The beach is overflowing with people. A sea of humans, the shine in their eyes, a spring in their step. People from all over India and every walk of life, most from outside the Congress. They have come for no reason other than to witness what their bones tell them is history being made and to be counted by their presence with an idea whose time is now. The atmosphere is electric. The air crackles with the latent potential of a million voices waiting to be unleashed. The collective energy is an explosive force that launches our Yatra forward.

I well up with emotion as I realise that every step in the journey to come is a step shared by the lakhs in Kanyakumari and the crores with us in spirit. I pride myself on being a 'nirgun bhakt', a rationalist after Nehru. But I cannot help but interpret the gift of a moment that comes but once in many lifetimes, on my fiftieth birthday, as anything less than a call from the Universe. I am overwhelmed with gratitude, joy and purpose. This may be as close to venerating the divine as I come.

The unruly river soon finds her banks. She gathers her energy into a gentle, mighty flow. She cannot see the ocean or the route that takes her there, but she knows she can no longer be stopped. She embraces us within her firm but protective swaddle. We find our flows within hers.

Our days settle down into a rhythm. I discover the intense effort required to walk a half marathon daily, but I also discover that it could be done. I discover blisters, sores and sprains, but I also discover that I can walk through the pain. I discover the discomfort of sharing portable toilets with ten dozen others, but I am amazed at how soon it ceases to matter. The fears disappear, and calm, quiet confidence takes their place. I, too, start flowing with the river.

The river heals. As she flows, she caresses, soothes and repairs the fractures of those within her embrace.

Our ceaseless steps unlock a new dimension to travel, a dimension that leads within ourselves. How can the act of putting one foot in front of the other open doors we have long hidden from ourselves? I have not a clue. But I see it in the smiles and stillness in some with whom I walk. I asked a fellow yatri how she was holding up. She tells me that she has never felt freer, "Bharat ka nahi pata, mai apne aap se jaroor jud rahi hun." (I do not know about India, but I am certainly reconnecting with myself). And this despite blisters on both feet. Go figure.

PIC: A SANESH

> I asked a fellow yatri how she was holding up. She tells me that she has never felt freer, "Bharat ka nahi pata, mai apne aap se jaroor jud rahi hun." (I do not know about India, but I am certainly reconnecting with myself). And this despite blisters on both feet

The river accommodates everyone from the lone drop to the broadest stream. But she will be dominated by none. Each will retain their identity, but none will define the river.

As we walk, streams of people join us—each with their flags, slogans and politics. We accept them and gently negotiate a new normal. We shape their understanding of the walk to create something new and more powerful. A walker tries to regiment others into a formation. The rest resist gently. A wizened lady explains that we are not walking to create uniformity but confluence.

The river may find adoration in crowds, but her flow through solitudes makes her precious.

After the thrill of crowded streets, we encounter our first unpopulated stretches. As we slog along lonely miles, I wonder who our walk, slogans and songs are for. My spirit sags, fatigue sets in, and irritation rises. Then in the distance, I see a group waiting for us. Today's walk through the wilderness has connected to habitation and perhaps two hearts to one another. Connections are precious because they traverse empty spaces between them. I now feel the river as much in solitude as I do in communion.

The river is timeless. It is I who have only now stumbled upon her.

We meet endless streams of people. Families waiting at their doorsteps, children looking out the window of their schools, shoppers in busy bazaars, workers in shops of every kind, and travellers stuck in traffic jams caused by the Yatra. Nothing has prepared me for the number of people who I have never met before or will again, showing me how deeply we share a common vision for how society should be. Some ignore me, some give me a cursory nod, but most wave back with a warm smile, their eyes firmly on my own. Some go further with an unprompted signal of solidarity—a thumbs up, a V sign, a clenched fist or a high-five. But the most overwhelming moments come when someone thanks. It begins with asking where I am from and whether my legs hurt, followed by a confirmation that we will walk all the way to Kashmir. With their doubts settled, they break into a warm grin and raise both hands as if in blessing and 'all the best, thank you!' I well up. This is more than an encounter of individuals; it is a communion.

The communion is the river caressing me. I realise that she is timeless. She has flowed for aeons through channels etched upon the hearts of our people. It is up to us to discover her.

WFH must end

Apropos of WFH outlives utility, search for new work models complex (Sept 21). As the edit rightly points out, during Covid, WFH saved costs on rent and other usual expenditures. But it also led to employees slacking and being unproductive. In view of this and also to create more job opportunities in industries like transport, it may be useful to switch back to the Work from Office model.

A young life lost

Apropos of Depressed over cousin's death, bank notice, 19-year-old in Kerala ends life at home (Sept 21). It is really sad to see young people end their lives without giving the slightest thought about how their parents will feel. However, it is the parents' duty to converse with their children so that the latter feel safe and confide in them.

Evil of dowry

Apropos of Dowry, lavish weddings taboo in this village (Sept 21). Residents of Baba Wayil, a small village in J & K, deserve appreciation for strictly following a blanket ban on dowry that was imposed about 40 years ago. It is an example for Indian society.

Army and IAF's might

The decision taken by the Indian Army and the IAF to conduct their parades and other events outside Delhi is commendable. It would be a great opportunity for people living in places other than the capital to witness the strength and might of our defence forces. The armed forces in full battle regalia will instill a sense of security among citizens.

For or against freebies

Apropos of Fiscal federalism and hullabaloo around freebies (Sept 20). In recent times, the debate around freebies has appeared in various forms of Indian media. Some are for it, and others are against it. But neither side has actually defined what freebies are! In this context, the column by Thomas Isaac is enlightening and evocative, even if one may not agree with him entirely.

Hullasa Behera, Bhubaneswar

Rich-poor gap widening

Apropos of Fiscal federalism and hullabaloo around freebies (Sept 20). When there is no industrial production, there is inequality in wealth and income distribution. Unemployment leads to low purchasing power and then people expect freebies. The columnist has correctly pointed out that corporates and the rich enjoy freebies after their NPAs are written off. This results in social inequality.

SC set to live-stream Constitution bench matters

Top court had in 2018 ruled that live telecast of court proceedings is part of right of justice under Article 21 of Constitution of India

SHRUTI KAKKAR @ New Delhi

FOUR years after the Supreme Court in 2018 had ruled that the live telecast of court proceedings are a part of the right of justice under Article 21 of the Constitution of India, the Supreme Court is all set to live-stream constitution bench proceedings from September 27. In the 2018 ruling in Swapnil Tripathi vs Supreme Court of India, a 3-judge bench had allowed live-streaming of the hearings in the SC, except sensitive matters involving sexual offences and matrimonial disputes.

According to sources, the decision comes pursuant to the meeting convened by a full court comprising all the top court judges on Tuesday who unanimously agreed for broadcasting the constitutional cases on a regular basis. Sources also said that the SC will begin with YouTube for live-streaming but would have its own webcast channel to live-stream the matters to be heard by the constitution bench.

The cases that are likely to be live-streamed include the pleas challenging the EWS quota, the Centre's curative plea seeking additional compensation for the victims of Bhopal Gas tragedy, excommunication in the Dawoodi Bohra community as well as the SC's power to dissolve marriages on the ground of irretrievable breakdown.

First live-streaming of SC's proceedings happened on August 26, the last working day of the then CJI NV Ramana.

Recently, senior advocate Indira Jaisingh, who was also one of the petitioners in the 2018 ruling, had written a letter to the CJI and his companion judges requesting the SC to begin live-streaming of the proceedings.

Jaising in her letter had said, "I therefore approach you with the request to immediately commence live streaming as a part of the fundamental right of every citizen to freedom of information namely the right to receive information as also the right of access to justice."

Live-streaming of the court proceedings has already started in the HCs of Gujarat, Orissa, Karnataka, Jharkhand, Patna and Madhya Pradesh.

'EWS quota meant to promote education'

SHRUTI KAKKAR @ New Delhi

SUPPORTING the 103rd constitutional amendment, which granted 10 per cent reservation to economically weaker sections (EWS) in admission in central government and private educational institutions and recruitment in central government jobs, the Centre on Tuesday told the SC that the EWS reservation was meant to fulfill state's obligation to promote educational interests of the people in weaker sections.

"India still faces overwhelming poverty according to the Sinho Commission Report and the States must take measures to alleviate this situation. Poverty at this scale cannot be allowed to continue. EWS reservations try to resolve this issue," Attorney General for India KK Venugopal submitted before a 5 judge bench headed by CJI UU Lalit.

The Centre, represented by AG Venugopal and Solicitor General Tushar Mehta said that reservation provided under it was different and had been given without disturbing the 50 per cent quota meant for the socially and economically backward classes. Hence, the amended provision does not violate the basic structure of the Constitution.

On CJI's question as to whether EWS reservation would eat into the seats for general category, reduce the seats given on merit and for those excluded for being in the 'creamy layer' of OBCs, AG said, "These are there in two separate compartments...So far as the OBCs and SCs and STs are concerned, they have been taken care of in the 50 per cent reserved category."

Centre may book 'fake' YouTubers

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

THE Centre may consider registering a criminal case against the creators of YouTube channels and social media users, who run an anti-India agenda and spread fake news.

The ministry of information and broadcasting (I&B) has ordered the blocking of more than 100 YouTube channels and other digital platforms since December. Majority of them were being operated from Pakistan and around 35 of them were based in India. At least three officials of the ministry confirmed that no criminal case or FIR is registered against the handlers of the blocked Youtube channels or social media users but added that the ministry may explore possibilities to take action against the digital news outlets or accounts, which are based in India.

The ministry, following the inputs and recommendations from and security agencies, blocked the errant handles.

Thakur to TV channels: Work professionally, don't try to grab eyeballs

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@New Delhi

UNION information and broadcasting minister Anurag Thakur on Monday urged media houses to 'work hard' to preserve professionalism and ethics instead of compromising with values due to fear of competition.

Referring to debates on news channels, which turn into fierce verbal spate on occasions, Thakur said that media organisations have a great challenge to provide truthful accurate and reliable news faster while preserving media ethics and values.

"Real journalism is about facing the facts, presenting the truth and letting all sides the platform to present their views. If you decide to invite guests who are polarising, who spread false narratives and who shout at the top of their lungs - the credibility of your channel goes down. Your decisions regarding the guest, the tone and visuals - define your credibility in the eyes of the audience," said the minister.

He was speaking at the 20th meeting of the Asia-Pacific Institute for Broadcasting Development in the national capital.

AIBD was established in 1977 under the auspices of the UNESCO. It is a regional intergovernmental organisation servicing countries of the United Nations Economic and Social Commission for Asia and the Pacific (UN-ESCAP) in the field of electronic media development.

Thakur further added that the viewer may stop for a minute to watch your show but will never trust your anchor, your channel or brand as a trusted and transparent source of news.

"Instead of compromising our values in this fierce competition, we must work hard to preserve professionalism. I strongly believe that journalists are duty bound to report news without fabrication, despite temptations to compete with those who propagate false news," Thakur said.

Row over party resolutions choosing Rahul as Cong prez

PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

A day before Congress central election authority issues notification for the AICC president polls, the party seems to be divided house with discontent brewing even before the election process has begun. On a day when Rajasthan Chief Minister, a frontrunner for the AICC president post, held hectic parleys with Sonia Gandhi in the capital, several senior leaders told TNIE that the election process is proving to be a futile exercise as many state units have passed resolutions choosing Rahul Gandhi at the helm. At least 11 state units of the party have passed resolutions to choose Rahul for the top post of Congress President election,which is slated for October 17. The process for filing nominations for the election will be held from September 24 to 30.

Speaking to this daily, a prominent Congress leader said that in most of the states, PROs are carrying out the resolution at the behest of Central Election Authority chairman Madhusudan Mistry, which is a clear violation of the election process.

"Rahul Gandhi cannot be asked to take responsibility because the election is on. He can be asked to file nomination and contest elections. They cannot undo the election process now. Why is election authority which is supposed to be neutral, telling his PRO's who are directly reporting to Mistry to carry out these resolutions? Who has authorized him?," asks the leader. The leaders point out that in most of the states which have passed the resolutions on Rahul Gandhi, it was done without seeking consensus of the PCC delegates.

Last week, Central Election Authority chairman Madhusudan Mistry has assured that elections to the AICC president post will be a free and fair exercise and electoral rolls will be published for transparency. "It is a charade. The promise of transparent elections is lip service. In my state, we were asked to pass the resolution for Rahul as the president," said a leader from Gujarat.

Another G-23 leader pointed out that the resolutions are being passed with the blessings of the Gandhi family and Sonia Gandhi or Rahul Gandhi cannot claim innocence on it. "Rahul could have stopped the resolutions by a single tweet, but he didn't..He is welcome to contest and win democratically," he said.

There are divergent views on participating in the election process, said one leader. "One view is not to participate so that the whole process won't be sanctified. Another view is to see at least the election is held as fairly and normally as possible," he said. As speculation is rife that senior leader Manish Tewari may also throw in his hat, one leader hinted that they are keen to have a strong contest. "Tharoor may not get good support. But if there's a keen contest, which might happen, then we'll choose who the best candidate is. In Tharoor's case, language is an issue," he said.

Another senior leader who is part of G-23, said that they batted for sweeping reforms in Congress since the party has been declining consistently in many states.. "The reason is that all nominated people are yes men and they can't give any hard advice. Now it's back to square one," he said.

CRPF in hot pursuit of Maoists in two districts of Jharkhand & Bihar

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

THE Maoists continue to operate about 30 drones in their strongholds in Sukma and Bijapur in Chhattisgarh and Gadhchiroli in Maharashtra even as the CRPF said that 25 districts across seven states continue to remain affected by Leftwing extremism with some gains at two locations in Jharkhand and Bihar.

At a press conference, CRPF DG Kuldip Singh on Wednesday held that none of the seven Naxal-hit states could be said to be completely free from Leftwing extremism but troops were able to wrest control over Budhapahad, at the trijunction of Palamu, Gadhwa and Latehar districts in Jharkhand, and Chakarbandha, near borders of Aurangabad and Gaya in Bihar.

However, a source of concern for the CRPF is the surveillance that Naxals continue to maintain over the movement of security forces in Bastar of Chhattisgarh and Gadhchiroli in Maharashtra. "These drones appear to have been procured from Amazon.com," a senior CRPF officer said. Singh said that three sustained counter-insurgency operations – codenamed Octopus, Double Bull and Thunderstorm – since April this year led to the capture of Buddhapahad which was in "Maoist hands earlier". The Maoists' sources of funds – mainly extortions in the mining areas of Jharkhand – have been choked.

'Not worried whether Gehlot would shift to Delhi or not'

CYNTHIA CHANDRAN @ T'Puram

WHILE there is pressure from the party on Rajasthan Chief Minister Ashok Gehlot to take up the Congress president post or not, his nemesis Sachin Pilot flew down to Kochi to express his solidarity to Rahul Gandhi's Bharat Jodo Yatra. The 45-year -old Sachin Pilot is a regular visitor to Kerala and has a bevy of supporters in the state among youth. In a quick interview with this newspaper, Pilot said he is not worried whether Ashok Gehlot would shift his to New Delhi or not.

How come you are in Kerala when Congress politics is in turmoil in Rajasthan?

I just keep finding an excuse to come to Kerala. Also, I love walking. On Wednesday, I walked 24km along with Rahulji's padayatra. Since the Legislative Assembly session is ongoing in Rajasthan, I have to return.

Your experience being part of Bharat Jodo Yatra.

It is a historic endeavour being undertaken by Rahulji with the objective of giving a thrust against the plight of all those forces who are trying to break the constitutional bodies, harmony and acrimonious actions. This is to get people together and spread the message of peace, harmony and togetherness. The response has been really overwhelming. I was there in Kanyakumari, too, from where the padayatra was kicked off. It's really a humbling experience to witness the responses from the people of Kerala.

How challenging is it for Congress to convert the mass support being generated from the yatra into votes?

It is not a political yatra to get votes. It's a message of harmony. Some are trying to dismantle the institutions and harmony of democracy. But I'm certain that ultimately the benefits will come to Congress and it's not a purely political exercise. Our aim is to energise the workers to make sure that we connect with them. The yatra could have been done in a truck or a bus or in some other way.

However, we have decided to reach out to people directly. Also, it is something which no other had done in the last 70 years. So Congress will definitely get the benefit from the yatra. However, we are here not as a Congressman, but as responsible citizens to speak up and clear our stand when things are going wrong on our economy, social harmony, caste and religion.

Are you under pressure about what is there in store for you in Rajasthan? Will you become the next Chief Minister of Rajasthan if he takes over Congress president's post?

I am here to participate in Bharat Jodo Yatra and there is no pressure on me. We are working to win Rajasthan elections. In the last 30 years, the Congress has never been able to win for the second consecutive term. It has always been a Congress-BJP-Congress-BJP cycle. We have to make sure that we win this time again.

I've conveyed my feedback to the AICC leadership, whcih will take a final decision. However, our objective is to ensure that the Congress government returns to power.

Meanwhile, the Congress president election has been declared where the nomination will start on September 24. Around 9,200 delegates will elect the president. Almost 10 -12 states have already passed resolutions hoping to see Rahulji emerging as the Congress president. It's up to him to take a final decision on whether to contest or not.

Is Gehlot in fray for the post of Congress president?

A: I can't answer for him. Let's see what's going to happen in the next few days. Central Election Committee chairman Madhusudan Mistry has said that anyone can file nominations on September 24. It's a fair and open election. No other political party in India has ever undertaken such an exercise. I don't know how BJP national president J P Nadda got elected and who voted for him. In the Congress, we have a system. When Mrs Gandhi was elected there was an election process and she came up unopposed. Being the oldest party in India, the Congress has the responsibility to carry its value system. It's good for the party and also for democracy.

Do you think Rahul may change his mind since a dozen states clamouring for him to take up the party mantle?

I can't say that. The important thing is that it is Rahulji's decision on whether he should contest or not. He had stepped down from the Congress president post taking up the moral responsibility on the 2019 poll debacle. Now he is leading from the front in Parliament and in the Bharat Jodo Yatra. He is well aware of what the party leaders want.

India gets UN award for hypertension control

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

INDIA on Wednesday won a UN award for its Hypertension Control Initiative. The initiave is a large-scale intervention under the National Health Mission (NHM).

Announcing the achievement, the Union Minister for Health and Family Welfare Dr Mansukh Mandaviya tweeted, "India wins an @UN award for "India Hypertension Control Initiative (IHCI)" - a large scale hypertension intervention within existing primary healthcare system under National Health Mission. IHCI has strengthened PM @NarendraModi Ji's mission to ensure health & wellness for all."

The '2022 UN Interagency Task Force, and WHO Special Programme on Primary Health Care Award' was announced at the UN General Assembly side event in New York.

The award comes at a time when the WHO has estimated that one in every four adults in India suffers from hypertension and only 12 per cent of these adults have hypertension under control. Under the initiative, 3.4 million hypertensive people were identified and put on treatment at various government health facilities.

IHCI is a multi-partner initiative of the Ministry of Health and Family Welfare, Indian Council of Medical Research (ICMR), WHO Country Office for India and Resolve to Save Lives (Technical partner).

Hypertension or uncontrolled blood pressure is one of the risk factors for cardiovascular-related diseases such as stroke, heart attack, etc. Cardiovascular deaths are responsible for one-third of the total deaths in India.

"Hypertension kills more adults than any other cause. Treatment of people with a high-risk of CVD is one of the best buys recommended by the WHO and scaling hypertension treatment and control can save millions of lives in the next decade," according to Roderico H. Ofrin, WHO Representative to India.

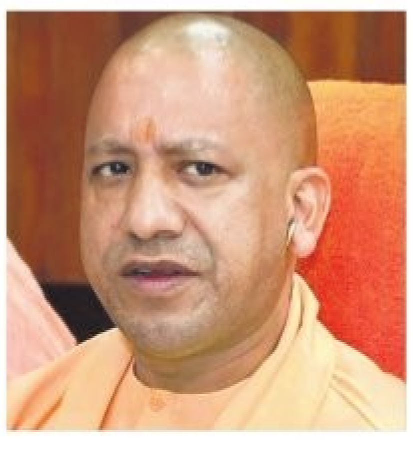
After madrasas, UP orders survey of Waqf lands

Revokes 1989 order under which barren land was registered as Waqf property

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow



AMID the ongoing surveys of unrecognised madrasas across Uttar Pradesh, the state government has issued directives to district magistrates and commissioners to re-examine the documents of all the properties registered under Waqf since April 7, 1989 and to record the status of such lands. According to the order, issued by the state government on Sept 19, Shia and Sunni Waqf Boards would be investigated in all the districts across the state.

The state government, which overturned a government order of 1989 under which uncultivable land was registered as Waqf property, has issued directives to the district administrations to conduct the survey and submit the relevant report within a month.

According to sources, Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath has ordered the officers to scrutinise and demarcate the Waqf properties in the revenue records. The directives came in response to a letter written by the state minority affairs ministry that said that several properties have been illegally occupied by Waqf boards.

Sources say that the survey aims to stop illegal possession and sale of Waqf properties.

A letter sent to commissioners and district magistrates by Shakeel Ahmed Siddiqui, deputy secretary, UP government, states that several Waqf authorities had neglected the regulations regarding property registration as per the Waqf Act-1995 and the UP Muslim Waqf Act of 1960. In 1989, an order was also issued to properly register such properties in revenue records.

The state government said that cemetery, mosque and idgah land should be demarcated because, on the basis of the 1989 ordinance, many such lands registered as Usar, Banjar and Bhita were declared as Waqf properties. Also, gram sabha and municipal councils had land that could be used for the general public but were occupied by Waqf boards, it said. However, change in management and nature of these areas is prohibited under the 1989 order.

Launching an attack on the government over the issue, Samajwadi Party chief Akhilesh Yadav said, "We are against the survey of Waqf properties. This government has to entangle people only in Hindu-Muslim issues."

Reacting to Akhilesh's criticism, UP Deputy CM Keshav Prasad Maurya called it "appeasement politics". He said, "Akhilesh Yadav only has the support of the mafia, miscreants and rioters. Muslim community did not get the Waqf properties. They only went to the mafia," Maurya said.

Pawar trashes BJP charge in chawl case

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

IN the wake of BJP allegations, NCP chief Sharad Pawar has said he is ready to face any probe in the controversial Patra Chawl redevelopment project case in which the Enforcement Directorate has arrested Shiv Sena leader Sanjay Raut.

In its supplementary chargesheet filed in court on Tuesday, the ED opposed bail for Raut. Without naming Pawar, the chargesheet says that a former CM played a role in the project.

After the chargesheet, some BJP leaders sought to link Pawar to the project. Pawar said when he was agriculture minister, he had called a meeting to resolve the project. However, no decision was taken over it.

"I am ready to face any probe. If there is no truth in allegations, then I would like to know the state government's stand on those who have made such allegations against me," Pawar said.

He accused the BJP of trying to malign his image. "They had done so earlier too, nothing happened," he said.

The BJP has posed three questions to Pawar. The state unit tweeted: "Pawar was the Union agriculture minister, what was the purpose for his calling a meeting with MHADA officials on the Patra Chawl project? What was Pawar's interest? If you really wanted to resolve the issue, then why didn't 700 Marathi families get houses in the project?"

NCP state chief Jayant Patil said the BJP was afraid of his party and that's why it is targeting Pawar. "BJP knows that NCP is the only party that can defeat it in elections. That's why BJP leaders are trying to tarnish Pawar saheb's image," said Patil.

Guj rolls back bill on stray cattle amid threats over milk supply

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA @ Ahmedabad

AHEAD of the Assembly elections, the Gujarat government on Wednesday withdrew a bill that aimed at prohibiting the movement of stray cattle on roads and public places in urban areas of the state.

Cabinet Minister Jitu Vaghani told the media that the government has withdrawn the Gujarat Cattle Control (Keeping and Moving) in Urban Areas Bill, 2022.

Congress MLA and Maldhari community leader Raghu Desai termed the BJP decision as flawed, saying Gujarat's corporation areas have laws already in place for cattle control. "But the BJP brought the bill to woo urban voters ahead of the assembly elections," he said.

The bill's withdrawal came days after Governor Acharya Devvrat returned the legislation with a request to "reconsider it and make necessary amendments". The Assembly had passed the bill earlier this year. It required the cattle-rearers to obtain a licence to keep such animals, (stray cows and bulls) in cities and towns and get them tagged, failing which they could have faced imprisonment.

Maldhari community protests over bill

During the assembly session, the Speaker read out the governor's message about reconsideration of the bill, after which state urban development minister Vinod Mordiya proposed withdrawal of the law.

The move comes after members of the Maldhari community (pastoral community) organised a 'Mahapanchayat' on Sunday, demanding to scrap the Bill, and decided to stop the milk supply on Sept 21. The community has been agitating since the Bill was passed by the state legislature on March 31 this year.

Besides the stray cattle bill, the community has also been upset over the stray cattle impounding drives taken up by the municipal corporations following a Gujarat High Court order.

This is the second major climb-down for the Gujarat government after the Par-Tapi-Narmada river link project was withdrawn due to opposition from tribal communities a few months back.

28 die due to stray cattle attacks in 10 months

Over the past 10 months, there have been 4,860 incidents of attacks on humans by stray cattle across Gujarat. At least 28 people have died in these attacks. Former Deputy Chief Minister Nitin Patel was injured in a stray cattle attack in Kadi in Mehsana district in August this year.

Confidence motion: Punjab guv cancels special Assembly session called by AAP

HARPREET BAJWA @ Chandigarh

IN a major embarrassment to the AAP government in Punjab, Governor Banwarilal Purohit on Wednesday withdrew an order calling for a one-day special Assembly session on Thursday to enable the Mann government to move a confidence motion.

The Governor said there was no specific provision about calling such a session and withdrew his Sept 20 order.

"In the absence of specific rules regarding summoning of the assembly for considering the 'confidence motion' only called by the Punjab government on Sept 22, I withdraw my orders dated Sept 20 regarding summoning of the 16th Vidhan Sabha," said the order.

A statement from the office of Principal Secretary to the Governor said, "The matter was examined and a legal opinion was sought from Satya Pal Jain, additional solicitor general of India. He has given his legal opinion that there is no specific provision regarding summoning of the assembly for considering the confidence motion only.''

Earlier in the day, the Governor received representations from leader of the Opposition Partap Singh Bajwa, Congress MLA Sukhpal Singh Khaira and Punjab BJP chief and MLA Ashwani Sharma stating that there was no legal provision to convene a special session.

A few days back, AAP had accused the BJP of trying to topple its government in Punjab. CM Bhagwant Mann had said a special session of the assembly would be called on Sept 22 to present a confidence motion.

Kamal Nath asked to 'fix' his statements

State Congress chief and former chief minister Kamal Nath's recent statement on leaders wanting to desert the grand old party has kicked up a storm among senior members. His remark, "Those Congress leaders who want to join BJP are free to go, I will give them my car to go there," has not gone down well with senior Congress leader and ex-leader of Opposition, Ajay Singh 'Rahul.' The son of former chief minister Arjun Singh, Ajay Singh reacted saying this is not the time for such statements, and instead he must try and fix them. Nath had made the statement in the wake of close confidante and ex-MLA from Bundelkhand region, Arunodaya Chaube, quitting the party recently – citing neglect from party workers.

Cong MLA to take out Adivasi Nyay Yatra

A tribal legislator of the Congress party has announced his decision to take out Adivasi Nyay Yatra from his constituency in Dhar district to Bhopal between September 21 and 29. The Dharampuri legislator Panchilal Meda, who had recently alleged physical assault by security staffers at the Vidhan Sabha, will primarily raise the issue of last month's leak in the under-construction Karam Dam in his constituency as well as the inadequate compensation given to the tribal farmers. According to him, these tribal farmers' property was damaged by a deluge which ensued after the emptying of the dam in a bid to save it from collapse.

Man who promoted celibacy honeytrapped

A businessman who managed 16 WhatsApp groups to promote bramhacharya (celibacy) has himself fallen prey to an alleged honeytrap racket over the same messaging mobile phone app. The prominent grocery trader from Khandwa lodged a police complaint on Monday, about having received a video call by a nude woman on Sunday. Before he could understand anything, the woman sent him porn videos and recorded the video conversation with him. She, subsequently, started 'sextorting' money from him and didn't stop blackmailing him even after he paid her the demanded sum. Subsequently, he reported the matter to police.

Varsity student takes own life, Calicut NIT prof booked

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Chandigarh

A student from Kerala allegedly died by suicide at a private university near Jalandhar on Tuesday, holding a professor of National Institute of Technology (NIT), Calicut, responsible for his decision. The Punjab Police has booked the professor for abetment to suicide.

As per sources, Agin S Dilip, 21, a first year student of Bachelor of Design at Lovely Professional University, allegedly hanged himself in his hostel room. After the news emerged, students took out a protest, saying this was the second suicide on the campus in 10 days. The first incident was resolved behind closed doors, they said. The civil administration and police denied the students' allegations.

In the suicide note recovered from the room, Dilip apparently blamed a professor, Prasad Krishna, for emotionally manipulating him into quitting NIT. "I regret my decision so much. I am being a burden to everyone,'' the note said. Dilip was earlier a student of NIT. Additional DGP Arpit Shukla said that a case of abetment to suicide has been filed against the professor on basis of the suicide note and Dilip's father's statement. "Two more notes have been recovered," he said. Kapurthala Senior Superintendent of Police Navneet Singh Bains said the suicide note cited personal reasons as the cause behind the decision of taking the extreme step.

In a statement, the university said, "The initial investigation by the police and the contents of the suicide note point towards personal issues of the deceased... The university mourns the loss and expresses its condolences to the bereaved family.''

Lab report confirms tigress killed 2 at Jim Corbett National Park in June

NARENDRA SETHI @ Dehradun

THE Uttarakhand forest department has confirmed that a tigress had attacked and killed two persons in June near Jim Corbett National Park, expressing concerns over the growing human-wildlife conflict.

It says the female tiger, known for a designated area movement in the forest, had expanded its territory.

"Two cases of tiger attacks on humans were reported on June 15 and 17, this year in Sarpaduli range under Corbett Tiger Reserve. After the incident, personnel of Corbett Tiger Reserve tranquilised and captured a female tiger," said Chief Wildlife Warden Sameer Sinha. According to him ecological evidence based on a study of camera traps found this female tiger guilty of the incident.

"Samples of the female tiger were sent to Hyderabad for DNA test. The June 15 victim's samples too were sent for examination. The report was received on Sept 20, in which the DNA of both the samples matched, confirming that the tigress caught on July 8 was responsible for the incident."

After the 2018 census, the big cat population in Uttarakhand was 442. In Corbett Park alone, 252 tigers were reported. Besides, 125 tigers were found in five forest divisions of western circle bordering Nepal.

Four tigers are seen in a radius of 10km continuously in the Fatehpur range. Conservator of Forests Deep Chandra Arya says that earlier it was believed that the tiger's jurisdiction is only 20-25 sq km.

Director of Rajaji Tiger Reserve Saket Badola said the leopard prefers an edge-type area before targeting its prey. On the other hand, a tiger feels more comfortable in a dense forest area. Forest sources say in the last five years, 77 people have died in leopard attacks.

The death of innocents and villagers due to leopard attacks in the hilly areas of Uttarakhand continues unabated. Two days ago, a leopard targeted a three-year-old girl while she was in her mother's lap at her courtyard and later killed her in the forest.

The issue has forced many to leave the villages.

Migration has not stopped in many villages of Pokhara and Ekeshwar development blocks. The people of Bharatpur village of Mazgaon gram panchayat of Pokhara development block thought it better to leave the village instead of becoming a victim of the leopard.

In MP, 7K cattle infected with Lumpy Skin Disease

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bhopal

The outbreak of the Lumpy Skin Disease (LSD) virus has hit cattle in half of Madhya Pradesh.

Chief Minister Shivraj Singh Chouhan chaired a high-level meeting over the situation where he was informed that 7,686 cattle in 26 out of the 52 districts have so far been infected by the viral ailment. While 5,432 cattle have recovered, 101 have succumbed to the disease in 12 districts.

Most deaths have happened in districts bordering Maharashtra, Rajasthan and Gujarat. Maximum 17 deaths occurred in Khandwa, 15 each in Mandsaur and Neemuch, 13 deaths in Betul, 10 each in Burhanpur and Ujjain and seven each in Ratlam and Alirajpur. Cattle deaths due to LSD have also happened in Jhabua, Harda, Indore and Bhind districts.

"The situation is alarming. We need to combat the outbreak with the same seriousness as we fought Covid pandemic," Chouhan said in the meeting.

At the meeting, which was attended by field officials of the animal husbandry department, Chouhan directed an accelerated pace of vaccination of cattle. He also ordered formation of a state disease control room, accessible by phone.

State Congress chief Kamal Nath accused the government of ignoring the alarming spread of LSD, and instead focussing on the Cheetah event.

"Instead of focussing on the cows, the government has been busy with the Cheetah event," Nath tweeted.

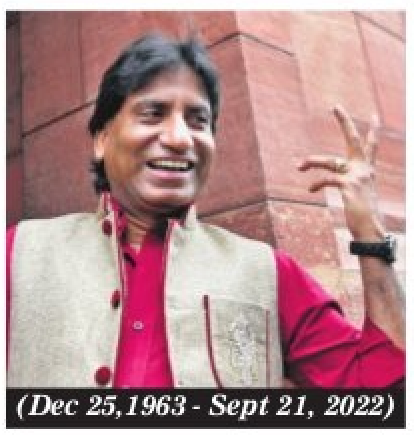
The man who taught us how to laugh at ourselves

KARTIK BHARDWAJ

I once had an argument with my father over Raju Srivastava. I was adamant that Raju has become a full-fledged comedian with The Great Indian Laughter Challenge and before that, he had done only blink-and-miss roles in films, including Tezaab (1988) and Maine Pyar Kiya (1989).

My father flexed his age and experience, and spoke about Raju's audio cassettes that were all the rage in his time. These cassettes were of the comedian telling jokes and stories. "Do you even know what a cassette is?," he asked, as if declaring that the argument had been won.

Raju Srivastava, comedian, actor and politician, passed away in Delhi's All India Institute of Medical Sciences (AIIMS) on Wednesday. He was 58. He was admitted to the hospital on August 10 after suffering a cardiac arrest while running on a treadmill in a hotel. Raju was put on the ventilator, went through an angioplasty and his health status reportedly fluctuated from better to worse in this period and after being in the ICU for a little more than a month, he was announced dead.



(Dec 25,1963 - Sept 21, 2022)

The comedian was born on Christmas Day (December 25) as Satyaprakash Srivastava in Kanpur. His father, Ramesh Chandra Srivastava, was a poet, commonly known as Balai Kaka.

Before the cassettes or the The Great Indian Laughter Challenge, there was mimicry. Raju started off as a mimic for many Bollywood stars, chiefly Amitabh Bachchan and did stage shows. These performances attracted offers from the film industry. I remember recently spotting him as one of the college students in Baazigar (1993).

While some of the older generation may differ, it was indeed The Great Indian Laughter Challenge in 2005 that made Raju a household name.

He had a gift for noticing intimate details from life we would usually not. After watching his comedy, you became aware of foofas (paternal uncles) living up to their cliché of being fussy; you suddenly recognised the nervousness of eating at a wedding when the camera is on you.

He is also perhaps the only comedian who could mimic the behaviour of everything from firecrackers to dogs. His Gajodhar Bhaiyya put middle-class North Indian humour on the map and rather than being offended, we started to laugh at ourselves.

The gift of making the mundane seem funny

SOPs to check sexual abuse in MP schools

ANURAAG SINGH @ Bhopal

THE Madhya Pradesh State Commission for Child Rights on Wednesday issued a 13-point list of SOPs for all private schools in the state. The development came after a nursery student of a prominent private school in Bhopal was allegedly sexually assaulted in the school bus by the driver. The SOPs particularly include teaching pre-primary and primary students the concept of good touch and bad touch.

"Ten minutes before the school session gets over for the day, the pre-primary and primary students need to be taught about good touch, bad touch, safe touch and unsafe touch," the SOPs say.

The guidelines, which have been sent to all district collectors and police superintendents for strict compliance, include giving priority to women in the appointment of drivers of school vehicles. Also, all vehicles need to have updated GPS trackers and CCTV cameras with DVR back-up of at least 30 days. Besides a woman attendant, a woman teacher also needs to be present in each school vehicle.

At least 75 per cent of teaching and management staff in pre-primary classes needs to be women. Police verification of all staffers, particularly those deployed for transport duties, is a must and annual re-verification of their records has to be ensured.

Russian atrocities should make 'blood run cold', Biden says as he tries to rally world against Putin

NEW YORK

US President Joe Biden declared at the United Nations on Wednesday that Russia has "shamelessly violated the core tenets" of the UN with its "brutal, needless war' in Ukraine. He said the war is an affront to the heart of what the international body stands for as he looked to rally allies to stand firm in backing the Ukrainian resistance.

US President Joe Biden speaks during the 77th session of the United Nations General Assembly at the UN headquarters in New York City on Wednesday | AFP

Delivering a forceful condemnation of Russia's seven-month invasion, Biden said reports of Russian abuses against civilians in Ukraine "should make your blood run cold." And he said President Vladimir Putin's new nuclear threats against Europe showed "reckless disregard" for Russia's responsibilities as a signer of the Treaty on the Non-Proliferation of Nuclear Weapons.

He criticised Russia for scheduling 'sham referenda' this week in territory it has forcibly seized in Ukraine.

"A permanent member of the UN Security Council invaded its neighbour, attempted to erase a sovereign state from the map. Russia has shamelessly violated the core tenets of the UN charter," he told his UN audience.

The American president called on all nations, whether democracies or autocracies, to speak out against Russia's invasion and to bolster's Ukraine effort to defend itself.

"We will stand in solidarity against Russia's aggression, period," Biden said. Biden also highlighted consequences of the invasion for the world's food supply, pledging $2.9 billion in global food security aid to address shortages caused by the war and the effects of climate change. He praised a UN-brokered effort to create a corridor for Ukrainian grain to be exported by sea, and called on the agreement to be continued despite the ongoing conflict.

Biden, during his time at the UN General Assembly, also planned to meet Wednesday with new British Prime Minister Liz Truss and press allies to meet an $18 billion target to replenish the Global Fund to Fight AIDS, tuberculosis and malaria.

But the heart of the president's visit to the UN this year was his full-throated censure of Russia as its war nears the seven-month mark.

His Wednesday address comes on the heels of Ukrainian forces retaking control of large stretches of territory near Kharkiv. But even as Ukrainian forces have racked up battlefield wins, much of Europe is feeling painful blowback from economic sanctions levied against Russia."

Biden backs UN Secuirty Council's expansion

Biden said that Washington supports the expansion of the UN Security Council to better represent areas including Africa and Latin America.

"The United States supports increasing the number of both permanent and non-permanent representatives of the council," Biden told the UN General Assembly. "This includes permanent seats for those nations we've long supported -- permanent seats for countries in Africa, Latin America, the Caribbean. The US is committed to this vital work," he added.

Macron urges maximum pressure on Moscow

New York: French President Emmanuel Macron on Wednesday urged the world to ramp up pressure on Vladimir Putin after the Russian leader called up reservists for the war on Ukraine. The international community must "put maximum pressure" on Putin, whose decisions "will serve to isolate Russia further," Macron said on the sidelines of the United Nations General Assembly. "I deeply regret the choice of President Putin to drag his country, especially the youth, into the war," the French president told reporters in New York

Premji said some employees were working for Wipro, as well as one of its competitors

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @Bengaluru

WIPRO chairman Rishad Premji on Wednesday said the firm had found 300 employees working for one of its competitors and that services of these emplyees have been terminated.

Wipro in a statement confirmed the termination. "Certain employees, found to be operating in circumstances that are in direct conflict with Wipro's interests, have been terminated," the IT firm said.

Speaking at All India Management Association's National Management Convention, Premji said the reality is that there are people today working for Wipro and working directly for one of its competitors.

Moonlighting is having a second job secretively. As part of transparency, individuals can have candid and open conversations around playing in a band or working on a project over the weekend, the agency has quoted Premji. The Wipro chairman was the first person to talk about moonlighting in the tech industry. He has called moonlighting in the tech industry as 'cheating -- plain and simple'.

Infosys recently sent an email to its employees saying dual employment is not permitted and violation of this could lead to termination of the employment.

Recently at an event held in Bengaluru, former Infosys director TV Mohandas Pai said, "Employment is a contract between two people, and the terms of the contract will dominate.... If you do something else during free time, then you should make sure that you don't use employers' assets, IP and you don't do which is confidential."

He said don't do work during employers' time, which is illegal, unethical and cheating.

He added that moonlighting has to be redefined and looked at differently. Tech Mahindra CEO CP Gurnani recently tweeted, "My thoughts on the trending 'M word'... It's necessary to keep changing with the times, and as always, I welcome disruption in the ways we work." Meanwhile, the Nascent Information Technology Employees Senate (NITES) is gearing up for a legal battle against illegal clauses mentioned in the offer letter of IT sector employees.

Meesho to give 11-day break to employees

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @Bengaluru

INTERNET commerce start-up Meesho has announced an 11-day companywide break to its employees. Starting from October 22,2022, called Reset and Recharge, will help employees to unplug from work and prioritise their mental well-being after the busy festive sale period, Meesho said.

At a time when burnout and anxiety have emerged as key concerns for today's workforce, Reset and Recharge will show way for other firms to adopt similar employee-first practices, it said. Meesho has announced Mega Blockbuster Sale from September 23-27.

Ratan Tata nominated as trustee of PM CARES

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

THE government has nominated veteran industrialist and Chairman emeritus of Tata Sons Ratan Tata as one of the trustees of PM Cares Fund, and inducted Sudha Murthy, former chairperson, Infosys Foundation, on its advisory board.

The new trustees were part of a meeting chaired by Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Wednesday. The PM took stock of initiatives undertaken with the help of the PM CARES Fund. During the meeting, it was discussed that PM CARES has a larger vision of "effectively responding to emergency and distress situations, not only through relief assistance, but also taking mitigation measures and capacity building". A presentation was also made on the various initiatives undertaken with the help of PM CARES Fund, including the Children scheme which is supporting 4,345 children.

Apart from Ratan Tata, former Supreme Court judge Justice KT Thomas and former Member of Parliament Kariya Munda were also nominated as the trustees of the Fund.

Others nominated to be part of the advisory board include former Comptroller and Auditor General of India Rajiv Mehrishi and Anand Shah, cofounder of Teach or India and former CEO of Indicorps and Piramal Foundation. The PM CARES Fund collected ₹7,014 crore in 2020-21 and ₹3,076 crore in 2019-20. Till 2020-21, nearly ₹4,000 crore has been disbursed for procurement of Covid-19 vaccines, ventilators, oxygen cylinders, etc. Contributions to PM CARES Fund by companies are eligible to be considered CSR spending.

India tweaks semiconductor scheme

RAKESH KUMAR @New Delhi

IN a bid to attract more players in the semiconductor space, the government has made performance-linked incentive (PLI) scheme more appealing for investors.

On Wednesday, the government tweaked the existing scheme to provide a uniform fiscal support of 50% of the project cost to companies across technology nodes as well as for compound semiconductors, packaging, and other chip facilities. Earlier, the fiscal support for the scheme ranged from 30% to 50% for different categories. "Given the niche technology and nature of compound semiconductors and advanced packaging, the modified programme shall also provide fiscal support of 50% of capex in pari-passu mode for setting up of compound semiconductors, silicon photonics, sensors, discrete semiconductors fabs and ATMP/OSAT," said a government statement.

Minister of State for IT Rajeev Chandrasekhar addressing the press said the total outlay for the package will remain same for now, but if needed it will be increased later. "Prime Minister Narendra Modi has said if there's a need to increase this ₹76,000 crore (outlay) by a certain substantial amount, we are ready to do so," said the minister. He said the harmonisation of incentives to 50% will make the semiconductor policy competitive and attract investment. Chandrasekhar said India is positioning itself as among the most attractive destination in Asia for electronics and semiconductors, and the government is "confident" that investments of nearly ₹2 lakh crore will come in next two years.

Last year, the ministry announced the scheme with an outlay of ₹76,000 crore to attract semiconductor makers in India. The ministry formed a nodal agency -- India Semiconductor Mission -- for development of semiconductors and display manufacturing ecosystem in India. So far, 4 companies, a joint venture between Vedanta-Foxconn; International semiconductor consortium ISMC, a joint venture between Abu Dhabi-based Next Orbit Ventures and Israel's Tower Semiconductor; Singapore-based IGSS Ventures and Jeweller Rajesh Exports have applied for the PLI scheme.

Aviation regulator DGCA extends flight caps on SpiceJet by 1 month

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

INDIA'S aviation regulator DGCA on Wednesday extended its eight-week ban for the struggling airline SpiceJet, under which it is prohibited to operate at more than 50% of its approved capacity. The restriction will continue till October 29, 2022, when the summer schedule ends.

The Directorate General of Civil Aviation (DGCA) had on July 27 ordered SpiceJet to operate a maximum of 50% of its flights, which were approved in the summer schedule for a period of 8 weeks, after the airline was involved in a series of mid-air incidents that raised serious safety concerns.

"...the review has indicated that there is an appreciable reduction in the number of safety incidents. However, as a matter of abundant caution, the competent authority has decided that the restrictions as imposed in the order dated July 27.07.2022 that continue to be in force till the end of the summer schedule (which ends October 29, 2022)," the DGCA said in its order.

As per the order, any increase in number of departure beyond 50% capacity will be subject to the airline "demonstrating to the satisfaction of DGCA that it has sufficient technical support and financial resources to safely and efficiently undertake such enhanced capacity". DGCA said during this period the airline will be subjected to "enhanced surveillance".

The order comes a day after SpiceJet sent nearly 80 pilots on leave without pay for 3 months. The Gurugram-based carrier, which has been making losses for the past 4 years, is scouting for funds to stay afloat.

Its effort to raise fund up to ₹2,000 crore include a stake sale by promoter Ajay Singh. In recent months, the airline has faced several headwinds, from aircraft lessers taking back their planes to CFO Sanjiv Taneja leaving the airline.

Indian market falls 0.5% ahead of Fed monetary policy outcome

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

Snapping the two-day winning streak, India's benchmark indices closed the Wednesday session with a minor fall ahead of the US Federal Reserve's monetary policy outcome, which is due later on Wednesday night.

BSE Sensex and NSE Nifty declined nearly 0.5% to close at nearly 59,450 points, down 263 points, and 17,700 points, down 98 points, respectively. The Fed is likely to go for a rate hike by 75 bps, but there is a possibility of a 100 bps hike after inflation for August rose above expectations. That apart, Russian President Vladimir Putin's announcement to step up its war efforts against Ukraine jilted investors' sentiments.

Adani made ₹1,600 crore per day in past 1 year

ARSHAD KHAN @New Delhi

WORLD'S second-richest billionaire Gautam Adani made more than ₹1,600 crore per day in past one year to double his wealth to ₹10.94 lakh crore, according to IIFL Wealth Hurun India Rich List 2022 released on Wednesday.

Adani's net worth is now ₹3 lakh crore more than that of Mukesh Ambani (₹7.94 lakh crore) who added ₹210 crore every day last year.

"In 2012, Adani's wealth was hardly one-sixth of Ambani's wealth and no one could imagine that he would overtake Ambani to become the richest man in India in 10 years," said Anas Rahman Junaid, MD and chief researcher at Hurun India.

In the last five years, the first-generation entrepreneur's wealth has increased by 1440%. The combined market value of Adani group's 7 publicly traded firms, all of which carry the industrialist's name, has increased significantly in the past few years. With Adani owning up to 75% stake in some of his firms, he benefited most from the sharp buying seen across Adani listed stocks.

For the first time in 10 years, Ambani of Reliance Industries has lost the top ranking despite his wealth increasing by 11% in an eventful year, which saw many headwinds including the Russia-Ukraine war. His wealth is pegged at ₹7,94,700 crore and has increased by 115% in the last 5 years. The total wealth of these two billionaires is about 50% more than the combined wealth of the next 8 billionaires in the top top 10 list, signifying the two A's (Adani and Ambani) diversification in new businesses and solid grip in power corridors over other names in the list. Also, Gautam Adani's elder brother Vinod Shantilal Adani, who is based out of Dubai, is now the richest NRI (non-resident Indian), overtaking the famous Hindujas.

SBI raises ₹4,000 crore via Tier 2 bonds

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

State Bank of India (SBI) has raised ₹4,000 crores Basel III compliant Tier 2 bonds at a coupon rate of 7.57%.

The bank in a statement issued on Wednesday said that the issue attracted an overwhelming response from investors with bids of ₹9,647 crores and was oversubscribed by about 5 times against the base issue size of ₹2,000 crore. Based on the response, the bank has decided to accept ₹4,000 crore at a coupon rate of 7.57% payable annually for a tenor of 15 years with a call option after 10 years. The bank managed to raise the fund at a spread of 14 bps over 10-year government bonds. The bank has AAA (stable) credit rating from domestic credit rating agencies for these instruments.

Govt nod for PLI scheme for Solar PV modules

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

THE government on Wednesday approved the second tranche of performance-linked incentive (PLI) scheme for the development of solar PV modules, with an outlay of ₹19,500 crore.

It said the PLI for the National Programme on High-Efficiency Solar PV Modules is aimed at achieving a manufacturing capacity of "Giga Watt (GW)-scale in high-efficiency solar PV modules. The scheme will help produce import substitution of nearly ₹1.37 lakh crore and also provide an impetus to research and development to achieve higher efficiencies in solar PV Modules, the government added.

"Solar PV manufacturers will be selected through a transparent selection process. PLI will be disbursed for 5 years post commissioning of solar PV manufacturing plants on sales of high efficiency solar PV modules from the domestic market," said the power ministry in statement.

The ministry believes, with this PLI scheme, about 65,000 MW per annum manufacturing capacity of fully and partially integrated solar PV modules would be installed in the country. Also, the scheme will bring direct investment of nearly ₹94,000 crore and direct employment of about 1,95,000 and indirect employment of around 7,80,000 persons.

No major change was made as BCCI on Wednesday announced a 15-member Indian women's team for the ACC T20 Championship, scheduled to be held in Bangladesh from October 1 to 15. India retained the same squad that played against England in the three-T20 series with Taniyaa Bhatia and Simran Bahadur being put in standby.

IN THE END, INDIA GET HEADACHE

In absence of pace ace Bumrah, pacers' lack of discipline at the death a new concern for Rohit & Co

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN @Chennai

WHEN India's T20 outfit began the year under the new regime of Rahul Dravid and Rohit Sharma, the task in front of them was simple enough. Get the batters, if they are batting first, to give the bowlers something to bowl at. For all their bilateral prowess in the format, conservative top-order batting, irrespective of the wickets lost, has cost them games previously. On batting strips, that safety-first approach had left them with just about par totals. That innings against Pakistan at last year's World Cup was a prime example.

Almost 10 months later, Dravid, Sharma and Co seemingly have a new problem to contend with. Get the bowlers to defend above par totals. The top-order have wholeheartedly bought into the concept but the bowlers, once famed for their control, are not in control of their radar, especially at the death. In isolation, it may read like knee-jerk reaction on the night after Australia chased 209, with 55 off those coming from the start of the 17th over. But this has low-key been an issue, slowly rumbling along in the background.

Captain Rohit Sharma has a lot to ponder over bowling picks in the end overs

They are still a damn good team. They cannot be not good having won 19 of the 27 matches in 2022. But some of those seven losses (one was a no result) have a common narrative. In the first match against South Africa in Delhi in June, the batters scored 211. South Africa won with seven wickets and five balls to spare (seamers accounted for 2/139 in 13 overs). Against Pakistan at the Asia Cup, the target was 182. Arshdeep Singh admirably tried to defend in his final over but the seamers again gave away aplenty with Bhuvneshwar Kumar and Hardik Pandya going for 2/84 in eight overs.

Bhuvneshwar's 19th over since Asia Cup

vs Pakistan	vs Sri Lanka	vs Australia
19 runs	14 runs	16 runs

Why is this happening? The match against Sri Lanka in the same tournament as well as Tuesday's against Australia showed. Death bowling. Dasun Shanaka's men chased down 42 off the last four (Bhuvneshwar and Hardik gave away 26 across the 18th and the 19th) to let the match slip. In Mohali, Bhuvneshwar and Harshal Patel were loose with their lines and ended up conceding 25 per cent of the total runs. Australia needed to score over a three-over period. And, no, there was hardly any dew so there were no caveats to fall back on. That even Ireland almost stole a march at the end is indicative of a malaise. Chasing 52 off 24 with six wickets in hand, they scored 47 (Harshal gave away 28 in his two death overs) and just fell short while chasing 226. Having groomed Harshal as a death overs specialist, his knuckle balls and variations is causing a problem. This issue could go away once Jasprit Bumrah comes back but it's a problem the management did not need.

"I don't think we bowled well," Rohit told the host broadcaster after the game. "You can't score 200 everyday, you need to bat well. Hardik batted really well to get us there. We need to look at our bowling before the next game." Hardik sang from the same hymn sheet. "Maybe we did not execute our plans, maybe we did not execute our deliveries."

There are five more T20I games for the management to look at options before the World Cup in Australia. Five more matches for them to arrive at a solution.

BACK IN INDIA A COLOURS, SAMSON HAS NO REGRETS

ASHOK VENUGOPAL @Chennai

INDIA A limited overs captain Sanju Samson looks forward to carry the momentum and continue the good work by India A players against New Zealand A in the unofficial Test series into the ODI series against the Kiwis which begins at Chepauk on Thursday.

The India A side comprises of discards, fringe players and a few who have performed well in the domestic circuit including the IPL. Many of them have been in and out of the Indian team, while some have been discarded without a proper run. There is general belief that the India A players could be suffering from lack of motivation. But Sanju Samson insists that it is all speculation and being in the 'India set-up' was a boon.

''Of course the motivation is always there as I said, we've always been saying that being a part of Indian cricket is not a small thing and we all know the standards which were set from last so many years is. We have been playing good cricket, and the quality of cricketers we have in our team is unbelievable. So I think it really helps each and every individual to appraise their own level of games. So we keep on challenging ourselves to keep on performing in each and every opportunity which we get'' said Samson, insisting that he or the team will not be short on motivation.

Samson is one of the few players who has not got opportunities on a continuous basis. Despite being in the reckoning for the T20 World Cup slot, he missed out on the bus. And Samson said it does get challenging.

"Finding a place in the Indian team is really challenging part for each and every player actually. There is a lot of competition going around and even among players who are in the team now. When these things happen, it is important to focus on one's self. So for me, from my younger age, all my coaches and my parents have always told me to focus on yourself and focus on your game, your fitness, your runs, your score ... and what I really like to do. I think when you do that rest of the things do take care of themselves. So I'm really grateful to be where I am at the moment, I really don't have any regrets. I'm really happy with the way I am performing. I want to improve more,'' said Samson.

The hard-hitting batsman has adapted to the demands of the modern game. He is game to play at any slot and has also mentally tuned himself to the roles he has to play.

"Playing different roles is something I have worked on for a lot of years. I am confident of batting anywhere in the order, from No 1 to 6. You should not fix a spot for yourself. You cannot tell people that 'I am an opener or I am a finisher.' In the last three-four years, playing in various roles and spots (in the order) has added a new dimension to my game,'' revealed Samson.

Samson insisted that A tours are important and said that with the quality of the teams one cannot find the difference between an A game and an international fixture. He also believed that his team would do well against New Zealand A.

"A tours are really important. Coming to a venue like Chepauk, this heat, these types of conditions, different types of opponents and bowlers, one-day format, spending time in the middle is a great learning to move forward. There is not much difference between an A game and international game. The competition is almost the same, so it is important to make use of the opportunities,'' signed off Sanju.

Harman's 143 powers India to huge total

ENS @Chennai

HARMANPREET Kaur (143 n.o) showed her class in a dominant batting display to take India to 333/5 in the second ODI against England Wednesday. The hosts, who won the toss, were vindicated in their decision as they removed Shefali Varma for eight before accounting for Yastika Bhatia (26) and Smriti Mandhana (40) inside the first 20 overs.

With the score reading 104/3 after 20 overs, the hosts may have quietly fancied their chances of getting into the lower middle-order but the skipper had other ideas. She initially assessed the situation taking 18 balls to score her first boundary off Freya Kemp.

After the loss of Mandhana, Harleen Deol and Kaur rebuilt the innings quietly in the middle phase while always ensuring that the run-rate was hovering around five. At 184/3 after 36 overs, Kaur turned on the ignition with a lovely sweep for six off Charlie Dean. The shot incidentally brought up 50 off 64 balls. She went berserk in the last 10 overs, moving from 63 off 76 to an unbeaten 143 off 111. She reserved much of that carnage for Kemp and Sophie Ecclestone. They conceded 45 runs to her in the last three overs.

Brief scores: India 333/5 in 50 ovs (Kaur 143 n.o, Mandhana 40, Deol 58) vs England.

Sai Kishore's strikes keep West in check

GOMESH S @Coimbatore

Brief scores: West Zone 250/8 in 90 overs (Het Patel 96 batting; Sai Kishore 3/80) vs South Zone.

IT was always going to be the deciding contest. It's between two of the best batters against spin against the best spinner in the tournament. West Zone's Sarfaraz Khan and Shreyas Iyer versus Sai Kishore of South Zone. That Basil Thampi and VC Stephen had run through the West Zone's top-order (16/3) on Day one of the Duleep Trophy final at Sri Ramakrishna Arts and Science College Ground, Coimbatore, had set up the contest nicely.

Even as Sai Kishore was introduced in the 11th over, Hanuma Vihari operated pacers from the other end, attacking Shreyas with hard-length. Shreyas took to the age-old phrase — attack is the best form of defence — and pounced on anything that wasn't short-pitched. There were on-the-raise drives, lofts, flicks to break the shackles. At the other end, Sarfaraz was holding forte, not playing away from the body.

The real challenge was how the duo dealt with Sai Kishore. The left-arm spinner was just coming off a 10-wicket haul in the semifinal. But for Shreyas, facing spin was an opportunity to attack. He has dominated spinners all through his first-class career — the strike rate of 80.27 is testament to it. He welcomed Sai Kishore with an inside-out loft over cover for a six. Slowly, they were rebuilding.

The field was spread out on the off-side for Shreyas and kept inside for Sarfaraz as Sai Kishore varied his lines and lengths. He bowled a bit back of length on middle-stump, forcing Shreyas to go on back foot. Dot balls started piling up and the left-arm spinner eventually won the contest, deceiving Shreyas (37) with his pace. A miscued loft over cover and Indrajith completed the rest as the celebrations broke.

Immediately, Vihari had five catching fielders around for Het Patel and Sarfaraz as Sai Kishore continued yet another marathon spell. For Sarfaraz, he was a lot quicker, not letting him get under or go on the back foot. At one point, the Mumbaikar launched a counterattack, hitting off-spinner K Gowtham for back-to-back boundaries. He tried the same against Sai Kishore, pulling out the sweep shot. But off the very next delivery, a slightly shorter length from the spinner meant, it took the top-edge and, once again, Indrajith did the rest at short fine-leg.

Speaking about the contest and his variation in lengths to the two batters, Sai Kishore said, "I think that is the beauty of the sport, it'll be the same ball that you are bowling but there are finer nuances that you have to just change for each batter."

From there on, West Zone slumped to 167/8 before Patel, along with Jaydev Unadkat rescued them to 250/8. The Gujarat wicketkeeper-batter was unbeaten on 96 at the end of day's play on Wednesday.

While Patel almost single-handedly put West Zone back in control in the last session, the cat and mouse game between the two Mumbai batters and the TN spinner was the contest of the day. And before signing off, Sai Kishore assured that there is more to come on Day two, this time, against the star with the bat — Het Patel.

Khanna steps down as IOA acting president

INDRANEEL DAS @Chennai

A day after Indian Olympic Association senior vice-president RK Anand told this newspaper that he will not go to Lausanne for a meeting with the International Olympic Committee, Anil Khanna stepped down as acting president.

Khanna, who was a senior vice-president in the IOC executive council, told this newspaper that he would not continue as the acting president and he has kept his participation at the IOC meeting open. "I have stepped down as acting president and would like to relax for a bit," he said. When asked about his participation at the IOC meeting, he said "let's see".

"I just want to request all our IOA members to come together and cooperate with the government and under the guidance of the IOC get things back on track," he said on Wednesday. Khanna, who also wrote a letter to all IOA members, said that he respected the IOC decision to not acknowledge the post of acting president and that he continued because of the High Court order, but would ask IOC later, "who would decided and interpret the law of the land?"

"Since the beginning of this month, the Government of India is making very sincere efforts to normalize the operations of IOA. Even the Hon'ble Supreme Court is sensitive to the views of the IOC in order to protect the interests of the Indian Sports Persons," he wrote in the letter.

"I have already stated in my earlier letter of 18th September 2022 that it is the duty of the entire IOA family to join hands and cooperate with the Government and take steps under the guidance of the IOC and the Hon'ble Courts to hold free and fair elections, following principles of good governance, as per timelines to be decided mutually."

"To bring greater harmony within the entire membership of IOA, and in order to achieve the above objective, I have decided to step down from the responsibilities and duties of the President bestowed upon me by the Constitution of IOA and the Hon'ble High Court," said the letter.

All eyes now will be on the Supreme Court that is hearing a case on the feasibility of appointing an independent administrator in the IOA who would also negotiate with the IOC.

Federer dreams of farewell match with Nadal

AFP @London

ROGER Federer wants to bring the curtain down on his glittering career by teaming up with long-time rival Rafael Nadal at the Laver Cup in London on Friday.

The 20-time Grand Slam winner announced last week he intended to retire after the three-day tournament at London's 02 arena, which starts on Friday.

The Swiss great confirmed on Wednesday that the final match of his long and illustrious career will be in the doubles on Friday evening.

Italian Matteo Berrettini, the first alternate for the tournament that pits Team Europe against Team World, will then take Federer's place over the weekend. The Swiss great does not yet know whether he will be able to link up with Nadal but said it would be the dream scenario. "Of course, no doubt," he told a packed press conference at the O2. "I mean, I think it could be quite a unique situation, you know, that if it were to happen."

Federer said he and Nadal, 36, had always maintained a respect for each other even as they vied for the biggest trophies in the sport.

"For us as well to go through a career that we both have had and to come out on the other side and being able to have a nice relationship I think is maybe a great message as well to not just tennis but sports and maybe even beyond," he said.

"For that reason I think it would be great. I don't know if it's going to happen, but I think it could be obviously a special moment."

OFF-FIELD ISSUES

Handball out of National Games? At least for now

FIROZ MIRZA @Chennai

HUNDREDS of handball payers will be affected if the sport is not part of the National Games this time. Because of the ongoing tussle between two factions, it doesn't figure on the list that has details about venues and events to be hosted. Secretaries of the warring factions also confirmed the development but said they were not officially told by the authorities as yet. With close to week left for the Opening Ceremony on September 29, another prominent sport missing from the list is taekwondo.

The decision, if not reversed, will affect more than 350 players handball, who have already started preparations by attending camps in their respective states. It is learnt that the players may file a petition with the court. Players feel, that since the Games are being held after seven years, participation of athletes should have been worked out by the Indian Olympic Association and the sports ministry.

Two versions of handball were proposed at the Games — beach and indoor events. As per the previous schedule, beach handball was scheduled to begin on September 30 in Surat while the indoor event was supposed to commence on October 7 in Vadodara.

Earlier, the factions — Handball Federation of India (HFI) and Handball Association India (HAI) — had sent their respective entries to the IOA for the event.

"Players will be the biggest losers if handball does not find a place in the National Games. The players have waited for a long time to compete in it. The blame will be on the IOA and union sports ministry if the players miss out on the chance to compete," Tejraj Singh, secretary-general of HAI, told this daily.

Pritpal Singh Saluja, secretary-general of HFI, also echoed the sentiments. "Why should players suffer? They have worked hard for this opportunity and now they are being deprived of a chance to exhibit their skills. If not allowed to play, the athletes will miss out on rewards like cash prizes and government jobs as well," Singh said.

IOA secretary general Rajeev Mehta, who last week said the issue will be resolved in two days, didn't respond to queries.

Gujarat, West Bengal champs

Favourites Gujarat men's table tennis team clinched gold without dropping a single set in the final against Delhi while West Bengal beat Maharashtra in the women's final of the 36th National Games in Surat on Wednesday. By doing so, the teams became the first gold medallists of this edition of the Games. Maharashtra and West Bengal took the men's bronze while Tamil Nadu and Telangana claimed the women's bronze.

Results (finals): Men: Gujarat beat Delhi 3-0. Women: West Bengal beat Maharashtra 3-1.

DAY'S DIARY

First issue published

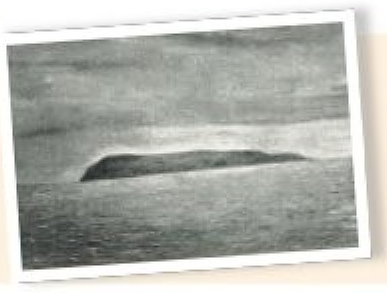
The National Geographic Society on this day in 1888 published the very first issue of its magazine, to increase and diffuse geographic knowledge

THE PIONEER

It was one of the first magazines to reproduce colour photographs. It was also the leader in printing photographs of animals in their natural habitats

INFOTAINMENT

Under editor Gilbert Hovey Grosvenor, it attained a circulation of 1,00,000 (1926) and combined scholarship and entertainment



FIRST PHOTOGRAPH

It carried the first-ever published natural scene (Herald Island); also considered the first real photo in a magazine

COLOURFUL MELODIES

The Yellow Diary, which has a song featured in the upcoming Madhuri Dixit-starrer film Maja Ma, speaks to CE about the boom in the music scene after the pandemic years

TUNIR BISWAS

IT'S a weekend afternoon when a group of young, breezy boys are spotted hanging out in different pockets of the concert space of GYLT, Bengaluru. The band in question is The Yellow Diary (TYD), a prominent act in the independent music scene. The band has a song featured in the upcoming Madhuri Dixit-starrer film Maja Ma, and some of the band members have also worked on other movies like Brahmastra and Gully Boy.

After the pandemic-ridden years, the band has been touring India, their last show in this city happening only a couple of months ago. "We thought the year-long break due to the pandemic would force us to restart things. On the contrary, when we returned to the stage, things felt even better. People were also waiting to get out," says Himonshu Parikh, the keyboardist and co-founder of the band.

The band saw a lot of digital success in the lockdown after Roz Roz (2021) became one of their biggest songs with over one crore views on YouTube. As is with hit songs, the single became an instant favourite and is heavily requested to be played at concerts. However, at the band's last concert here, something unforeseen happened. One of their early songs, Buniyaad, was also requested. The band believes this was the first time that track got an encore. "When we first came here, we only did so because we knew there was appreciation for independent music. A couple of gigs later, we started seeing people who liked our music. In the last few times, we have found a family of sorts among fans here. Now, some of them attend our shows for various tracks, including Kashmir, which was made for a specific reason," shares Rajan Batra, the lead singer and co-founder.

Drummer Sahil Shah was also pleasantly taken aback when Buniyaad was requested. Shah feels Bengaluru has always been the city for Indie bands to be in. "This city loves its bands. Some of the best ones in the country have come out of here. And the crowd here has always been a lot more responsive and supportive of us right from our early days," says Shah.

The band is in tune with the local music scene and has performed numerous times with city-based bands like Parvaaz and known musicians who play with veteran acts like the Carnatic Rock band Agam. Hence, they have no issue giving opening spots to the local musicians. "We're open to having local artistes perform with us. It just needs to make logistic sense. If the other band has a completely different setup, then it will be tricky to do a show with them. We usually look to push singer-songwriters and acts with an easier setup," says Stuart DaCosta, the band's bassist.

Formed in 2015, TYD has been a close-knit group for years until recently, when Vaibhav Pani, the band's former guitarist, left to pursue other interests. Replacing him is the band's newest member Harsh, who is now the lead guitarist of the band. "I still freelance with other acts but being a part of a band has been amazing," says Harsh, who joined the band over a year ago. While adding a new member did change things, the process has been exciting as newer elements of musicality have been added. Like DaCosta adds, Harsh's whimsical playing has provided an added flare to their live performances.

> This city loves its bands. Some of the best ones in the country have come out of here. The crowd here has always been responsive and supportive of us right from our early days

With James Cameron's Avatar re-release briefly in theatres this Friday, filmmakers share their experience of watching this visual spectacle and talk about why they are keen to relive it

RETURN TO PANDORA

RAM VENKAT SRIKAR

IN 2009, as a 12-year-old, the first memory I have of James Cameron's Avatar is reading scrolling news about theatres across the nation upgrading their projectors to screen this film in 3D. Most of us, who had a chance to watch the film on the big screen, still remember discovering Pandora for the first time, meeting the Na'vi, witnessing and eventually falling in love with the world Cameron and his visual effects team, spearheaded by Joe Letteri, introduced us to. Avatar became the highest-grossing film of all time and all the screens that were upgraded to 3D benefitted from Avatar's success and the consequential popularisation of the format with Hollywood going on to churn out 3D spectacles regularly.

The remastered version of the film, which James Cameron is admittedly "really impressed with," is set to grace the big-screen 13 years after its original release. Cameron, in fact, has shared, "If you haven't seen Avatar in theatres, you haven't seen the film." Naturally, the excitement to catch it is palpable.

Director Ranjit Jeyakodi, for instance, remembers watching the film on the first day in 2009. Recalling the experience, the Ispade Rajavum Idhaya Raniyum filmmaker says, "I didn't have any expectation, as I am someone who doesn't consume much promotional material. Once the show began, my jaw dropped."

KD-filmmaker Madhumita too emphasises this feeling. "One day, when we packed up early after the shoot of Kola Kolaya Mundhirika, I watched the film on an IMAX screen. I was just blown by the scale, the vision of the creator, and the fact that someone could imagine something so crazy while retaining the core human emotions."

Telugu filmmaker Saagar K Chandra shares the sentiment that its emotions that define Avatar. "Like how Maharshi Vishwamitra created Trishanku Sawargam, James Cameron created a parallel cinematic universe with human-like emotions in Avatar. I feel no cinema could ever be made like Avatar," the Bheemla Nayak filmmaker says. Recalling his experience, Saagar shares, "I watched the film on its release day and was spellbound by its terrific visuals, storytelling, and performances."

Saagar adds, "I wondered how one can get such ideas and conceive a film like this! Avatar is definitely superior to all the films made earlier because the film has justified and also applied every law of physics in a great way. The film showcased Pandora as a small planet and we know such planets have less gravity. So the vertebrae will naturally expand slightly, causing a person to become taller. Similarly, it also applied the law of evolution and light, too. Avatar is way beyond our imagination."

Filmmaker Arun Chandu, a sci-fi buff reveals that he had watched most Hollywood blockbusters on VHS, with Avatar being the first blockbuster spectacle he watched in a theatre.

"I believe its 3D is an underappreciated aspect because Avatar helped redefine the idea of 3D. It had brighter visuals and more depth – not the kind of 3D we saw up to that point. Post-Avatar, technology and 3D has changed, and Marvel has changed the landscape of CGI."

Kannada actor and producer Sharmila Mandre says, "Avatar is one of those unique films with a technical brilliance that you can keep watching over and over again. Amongst the slate of movies that have come over the last two decades, Avatar is one film that has remained in people's minds. Not a single person who watched Avatar was disappointed."

She adds, "A lot of films did try to meet up to the expectation of Avatar, but couldn't come close to it. The reason to re-release the original before the sequel comes out is a good move."

> Amongst the slate of movies that have come over the last two decades, Avatar is one that has remained in people's minds Sharmiela Mandre, actor-producer

FIT BIT

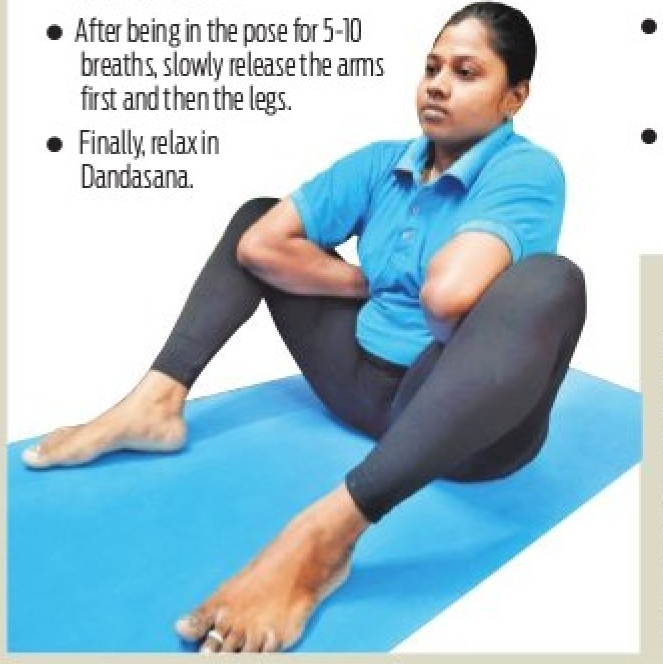
AVABHINNA PAKSHAKASANA

(SEATED BROKEN WINGS POSE)

The Avabhinna Pakshakasana does not originate from any traditional school of yoga. This can be included in Yin Yoga considering the intensity of its stretching action of the wrists. It is very suitable for corporate yoga.

STEPS

- Begin with Sukhasana (Easy Pose). Take a couple of deep breaths.
- Align your sit bones and stretch your legs in Dandasana. Shake your legs a couple of times and release the blood flow.
- Fold your legs and place your feet in front of you, hip width apart and grounded on the floor.
- Place your wrists on the sides of your waist near the lower belly sides, making sure the palms look away from the body. The back of the wrist rests on the waist.
- Bring folded arms with elbows towards each other like broken wings.
- Slowly push the elbows inside with your legs and do the feet slowly turn inside towards each other.
- Inhale and exhale in the natural rhythm and feel the shoulder stretch.
- After being in the pose for 5-10 breaths, slowly release the arms first and then the legs.
- Finally, relax in Dandasana.



BENEFITS

- Stretches the groin muscles, back of the wrist, shoulder and upper back.
- Strengthens the ligaments and the fine tissues in this area.
- Makes the arms and shoulders flexible and reduces any stiffness in these muscles.
- Students with a long day desk-job can reap the benefits of this pose.
- Deep breath helps students to relax and balances the blood pressure.
- Helps the students to be away from anger and anxiety.
- Kidneys and bladder meridians get active and function efficiently.
- Effective in treating carpal syndrome, tennis elbow and diastasis recti.

LIMITATIONS

Not recommended for people with injuries in ankles, shoulders, wrist, surgeries in hip, spine, knee, and shoulders, weak ankles and bone structure.

People with heart and breathing ailments, obesity, and pregnant women and elderly people should avoid this.

By N Elumalai, PhD scholar (Yoga Science) at Meenakshi Academy of Higher Education & Research, Chennai

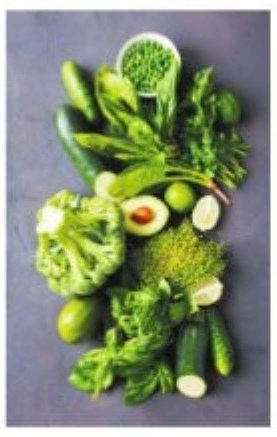
Boost your brain

For World Alzheimer's Month, Dr Venkatraman Karthikeyan enlists a dietary chart that can keep your brain healthy

DIYA MARIA GEORGE

Skipping your meal to adjust to a busy work schedule, being stressed over irrelevant things and losing sleep over a million thoughts have become common in most of our routines. Due to this, we tend to forget small yet important details in our daily life. Over time, these small things that we forget make our brain deliberately forget important information, which could lead to Alzheimer's. "Alzheimer's disease is a degenerative neurological disorder that causes a few cells in a particular part of the brain to automatically get destroyed. It happens, predominantly, because of a deposition of a waste product. These waste products happen to everybody as we age, but in Alzheimer's disease, they are in excess and thereby they cause accelerated loss of neurons," says Dr Venkatraman Karthikeyan, consultant neurologist, Gleneagles, Global Health City. This World Alzheimer's Month, with inputs from Dr Venkatraman, here is a curated list of the important brain foods to prevent Alzheimer's.

EXPRESS ILLUSTRATION



VEGETABLES

Broccoli, cucumber, cabbage, carrots, eggplant, spinach, onion, and garlic

Expert opinion: "Both fruits and vegetables are advised to be eaten raw. Vegetables organically grown, straight from the garden are preferred. Avoid cooking food with any preservatives."

FOODS TO AVOID

Carbonated drinks, high calorie processed foods, instant foods, and maida

Expert opinion: "Bingeing on high calorie sweeteners or carbonated drinks and alcohol should be avoided. Alzheimer's can also exist with a condition called vascular dementia. This causes small blood flow obstruction to the brain; this can happen due to our poor food choices."

MILK PRODUCTS

Milk, yogurt, and low-fat cheeses

Expert opinion: "Try to consume organic milk products rather than processed ones. These products are also rich in calcium which regulates several neurological functions."

FRUITS

Mango, papaya, mosambi, oranges, peaches, pomegranates and dry fruits

Expert opinion: "Anything that is locally grown and is rich in vitamin C and vitamin D is preferred. Dry fruits are in no way superior or inferior to any other fruits mentioned."

WHOLE GRAINS

Oats, barley, quinoa, brown rice

Expert opinion: "Whole grains can provide a lot of vitamin E. It is better to eat those whole grains and cereals that can be digested easily."

SEA FOOD

Salmon, tuna, sardines, shrimp, lobster

Expert opinion: "Fish is a rich source of both vitamin D and the omega fatty acids. It also has antioxidants. Any food rich in antioxidants will help in preventing the process of excess waste products getting deposited in the brain."

TIPS FOR BRAIN HEALTH

Don't skip breakfast. If you are in a hurry, make a simple meal like khichdi, rich in all the nutrients to give your body all the essentials.

Red wine and dark chocolate can be consumed in appropriate amounts as they have good benefits for brain health.

Sleep for at least seven hours daily so that the brain gets time to eliminate waste products which prevents it from getting accumulated.

4 cups of green tea daily can cut diabetes risk

A moderate consumption of black, green or Oolong tea is linked to a lower risk of developing type 2 diabetes, a study said. The findings suggest that drinking at least four cups of tea a day is associated with a 17 per cent lower risk of diabetes over an average period of 10 years.

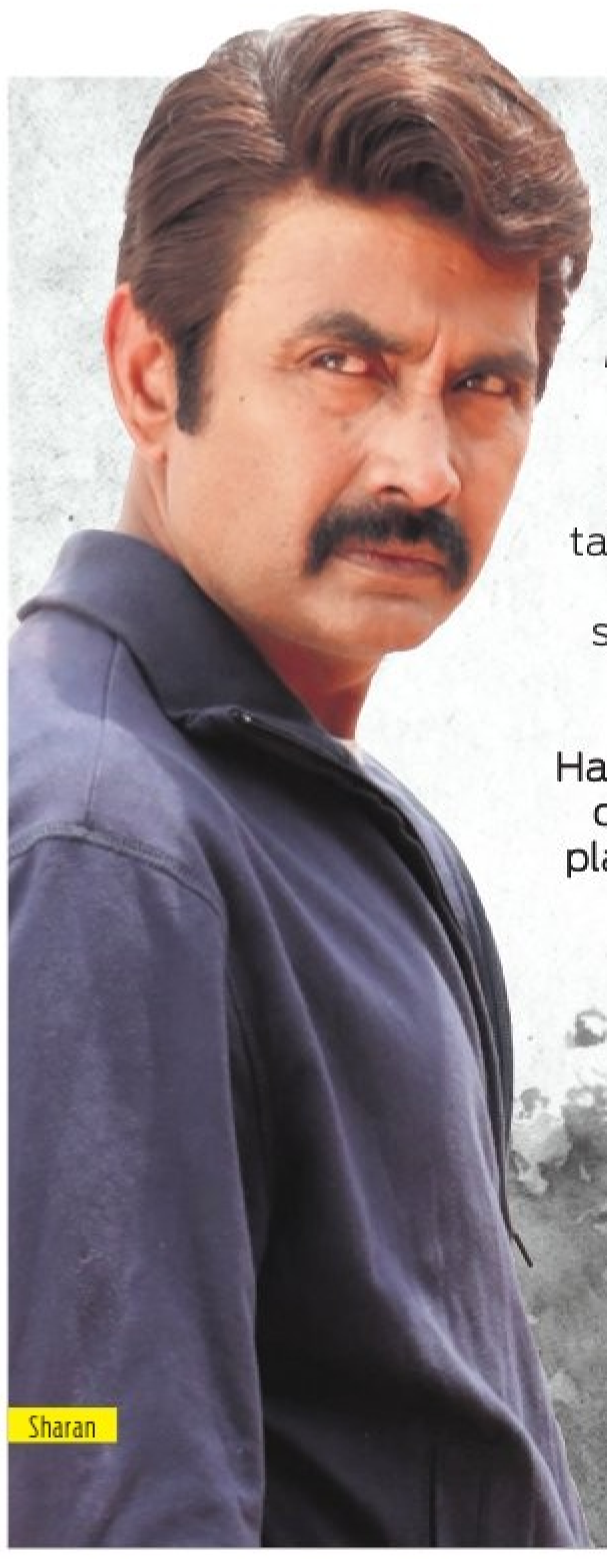
'GURU SHISHYARU BRINGS SPORTS AND ENTERTAINMENT TOGETHER ON SCREEN'



Sharan

... says actor Sharan, who talks about his upcoming sports drama directed by Jadeshaa K Hampi, and the challenges to play the role of a physical education teacher

A SHARADHAA

Sharan is one of the earliest comedians to make a transition into leading roles, and most of his films as the hero played to his strengths as a comedian. However, Sharan finds himself at a stage where he needs to experiment with the kind of characters he plays now.

Jadeshaa K Hampi's Guru Shishyaru is one such film to bring Sharan's talent to the fore. In this film, co-produced by director Tharun Kishore Sudhir, Sharan plays a Physical education teacher in this sports drama. "Guru Shishyaru is well within my zone. It is like playing on the same ground, but this time, it's a different game. The usual mannerism of Sharan won't be seen a lot in this film. The entertainment quotient will still be there through the kho-kho games," says Sharan, ahead of the film's release on September 23. "The credit for conceiving a subject on kho-kho should go to two people - the director (Jadeshaa) and creative head (Tharun)," Sharan adds.

Sharing his experience of working in Guru Shishyaru, Sharan says, "Anything different and new has always caught my attention. Acting in this film made me learn a different kind of art, and it was physically challenging to play this role." Admitting that he is a director's actor, Sharan says, "Any film is a director's show, and my job ends when I lock the story and they finalise the cast and technicians. Everything else is the director's call, and I just focus on the acting. I haven't even watched even a single frame of Guru Shishyaru, and I want to watch it with the audience."

Apart from Sharan, the film also stars 11 young kids who play the role of kho-kho players. "The film is set in 1995, and it gave me an opportunity to relive those times. I saw innocence in those kids, and through the process of making the film, they taught me so much. The film brings sports and entertainment together in one frame also brings out the divine relationship between a teacher and his students, which is the best part of Guru Shishyaru."

Tharun Kishore Sudhir

'BUSINESS CAN'T BE THE ONLY FACTOR TO JUDGE A FILM LIKE GURU SHISHYARU'

Creative Head is a post, which is rare in cinema, and director Tharun Kishore Sudhir feels proud to hold that post in a few films including Guru Shishyaru. "To be honest, I think I was the first to create such a post in the Kannada industry when I started working with my brother Nanda (Nanda Kishore) in Rambo. The creative head is like a tuition teacher, who offers separate lessons and additional insights to what is taught in the classroom," says Tharun, adding, "Director is the one who takes the final call, and I just give my creative input." As a director, Tharun feels that even he would benefit from having a creative head in his projects.

Apart from being the creative head, Tharun is also making his debut as a producer with Guru Shishyaru. He is co-producing this project under his Tharun Sudhir Kreatiivez banner in association with Sharan's Laddu Cinemas. "It is difficult to convince producers about some scripts. Guru Shishyaru was definitely one of those challenging scripts, and the merits of it couldn't be just looked at from the business perspective. There is a lot of trial and error in this film. So I decided to take that risk and plunged into production," he says.

...SAYS R CHANDRU, WHO FEELS OVERWHELMED ABOUT THE RESPONSE TO THE TEASER

'Comparing Kabzaa and KGF is a good sign'

CE FEATURES

R Chandru

DIRECTOR R Chandru and team Kabzaa are overwhelmed with the response to the teaser, which was released on September 17 and has now crossed over 26 million views in 4 days. "Good content can bring us good results. Our aim to make Kabzaa a pan-India project has become a success in the very first teaser. People from across languages have watched the teaser, and we will be reaching 30 million views soon," says the director.

Chandru strongly believes the teaser's impact can be seen in the opening up of the business of the film with enquiries coming in from across the globe.

The Kabzaa teaser has also received responses that liken it to Yash-Prashanth Neel's KGF franchise. "I'm glad that people are comparing our film's making to a film like KGF, which made a business of ₹ 1500 crore. So there is an equal expectation from Kabzaa as well," says Chandru, adding, "Kabzaa is a film, which is made on Hollywood standards, and will mark its own identity and will create an individual brand among the people," he says.

Kabzaa, which is now in the post-production phase, is left with the shoot of one song. With audience expectations building on Kabzaa, the director is yet to finalise the release date. "The film has a lot of VFX work, and it needs to be dubbed in 7 languages. It is only after completing them that I can work on the release date. I do have a certain target date in mind, and I hope to meet it," says Chandru, who along with actor Upendra, are heading to Dubai for the next set of promotions.

'PRABHUDHEVA IS MY INSPIRATION'

...says choreographer Bhushan, who turns hero with Raja Rani Roarer Rocket, which is slated to release this week

Bhushan

A still from the film

CE FEATURES

BHUSHAN, the popular dance choreographer of the Kannada industry, turns hero with Raja Rani Roarer Rocket. Having choreographed for films starring Shivarajkumar, Darshan, Puneeth Rajkumar, Ganesh, and Sharan, Bhushan is now taking the acting plunge.

In fact, Bhushan had acting aspirations even before becoming a choreographer. "Coming from a middle-class family, I didn't have any backup. I aimed to become an actor, but I had to plan my career. I took up dance training when I was in college, started performing at Ganeshotsav, and got in as a background dancer in films. I also participated in around 15 reality shows, and have won awards in 10 as a choreographer and contestant. My first song as a film choreographer was Chuttu Chuttu, (Rambo 2), which became a sensational hit. Later I got associated with a good number of films, and got the opportunity to choreograph many top stars," says Bhushan. The choreographer-turned-actor credits his dancing skills for helping him in his acting. "Being a dancer, it was easy to express, and I just had to take efforts to ace the dialogue delivery too," says Bhushan, whose Raja Rani Roarer Rocket is billed to be a comedy drama.

Directed by Kempegowda Magadi, the film is set in a rural backdrop, and has Maanya playing the female lead. "I had to go with a simple story to go along with the allotted shoestring budget," says Bhushan, who signed this project even before the pandemic, and the film is seeing the light of day on September 23.

Revealing that his inspiration is Prabhudheva, Bhushan says, "I want to follow Prabhudheva's footsteps and carve a successful career as a choreographer, actor, and I also hope to direct a film someday," he signs off.

Amitabh to voice Discovery channel series

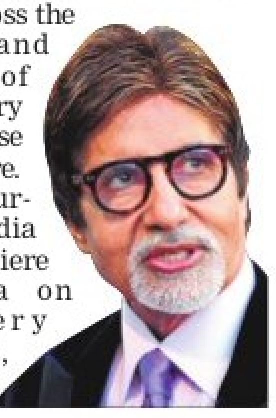
The Journey of India will premiere in India on Discovery Channel, on Oct 10.



Dulquer Salmaan: I genuinely, passionately love cinema; I've not chased box-office

Following Sita Ramam and ahead of Chup, the actor talks about his peculiar relationship with Hindi cinema, processing bad reviews, his expanding fanbase and why terms like 'Pan-India' don't carry much

SHILAJIT MITRA

HINDI audiences are in a Dulquer Salmaan state of mind. Sita Ramam, his sprawling 1960s-set period romance co-starring Mrunal Thakur, has worked exceedingly well, despite the unusual decision to release the Hindi version a month after its initial run. Meanwhile, the same Dulquer cuts a lean and unglamourous figure in the trailer for Chup. Also featuring Sunny Deol and Shreya Dhanwanthary and directed by R Balki, the film concerns a serial killer on the hunt for—god save us!—film critics.

Dulquer spoke about his peculiar relationship with Bollywood, processing bad reviews, his expanding fanbase and why terms like 'Pan India' don't carry much weight for him. Excerpts from a chat...

Your Hindi choices have been enjoyably eccentric: Karwaan (2018), The Zoya Factor (2019) and now Chup.

This is a delightful problem I have and I love that people are asking why I am not doing more films in each language. As opposed to, 'We are seeing too much of you'. In Malayalam I have the most pressure to have a big opening, a big final number. All this numbers talk. So some of my decisions have to be based on that. But if I'm doing Hindi, Telugu or Tamil, I can do anything. I can do any kind of cinema and I would like to be known as an actor and not as a star. This is a weird journey I'm on but I'm loving every minute of it.

How do you feel when critics pan your films?

I am happy to see what they didn't like. I'm quite open to reviews. I think it helps me choose better films, different roles. I read everything. Definitely, it bothers me. But I'm also that person who would ignore 100 good things that have been said about me and focus on those three bad things. My whole family knows this about me. After a release, if I'm walking around the house with a small face, they are like, "What did you read? Stop reading."

But do you agree with the assessments?

I'm not sure if I'm blanking out but I don't think critics have been very off about my films. I mean, they can do personal attacks, they can have some agenda and insult you personally. But I don't think they can tell us something about our films that we don't already know (laughs). All of us go in with a particular film in our head. And you hope that the filmmaker is also watching the same film in his head. If there's a mismatch, then there's something wrong.

Sita Ramam* has been loved across quarters. It's also your highest-grossing film at the box-office.

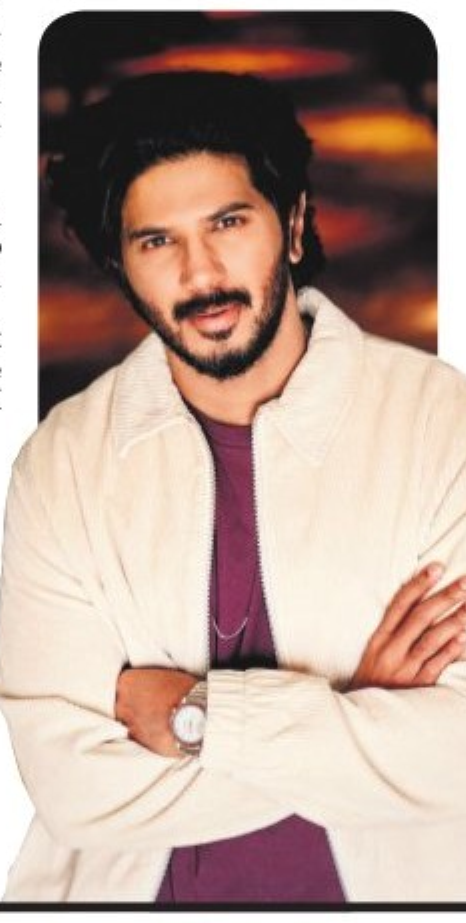
I am delighted. When I first heard the script, it sounded like a classic epic love saga. But I was also scared if it will become what we wanted it to become. We shot in Kashmir and Spiti in the worst of times. It was terrifyingly cold, at -22 C. No running water, everything was frozen. People were dropping (sick) in our unit, there were ambulances on standby. We shot the film like that. But I think the reason why we put so much genuine effort is because we felt we were making something special.

Do you think the film has also expanded your fanbase? After all, it's a rare Telugu hit with two non-Telugu leads.

I genuinely believe that we don't understand the power and reach of great cinema. My second film, Ustad Hotel (2012), travelled more than I ever imagined. Before OTT and all that stuff, I went to Hyderabad for the first time and met kids who were like, 'Hey, we love Ustad Hotel'. I remember distributors telling me that Charlie (2015) had a great market in Japan. Then there was a phase when I would get constant messages from Turkey.

I definitely think Sita Ramam has opened up a whole bunch of new viewers to my filmography. They are going back and exploring. This is what I always seek. I genuinely, passionately love cinema. Even before I became an actor, I have always been seeking to be a part of great cinema. I have not chased box-office.



Your films don't carry the weighty 'Pan India' tag. At least they are not marketed like that.

I've never understood tags. Films, I feel, should stand on their own instead of being tagged a Pan India film, a Telugu film, a Hindi film or a Tamil film. It's just cinema that we've loved, and the ones we didn't love, we don't really talk about. Maybe we are trying to create different categories to simplify things. I get these inquiries often, when people say, "Sir, we have a Pan-Indian script for you'. And I'm like, 'No you don't. You can't decide if its Pan India or not.'

Chup* is framed as a tribute to Guru Dutt. Did you watch Guru Dutt's cinema growing up?

I've definitely grown up on a good diet of Guru Dutt's music. My parents always listened to a lot of classic Hindi songs and Ghazals. We did a lot of road trips when I was kid. My dad loved to drive. When we shifted from Kerala to Chennai, he never, for some reason, flew us there or took trains.
